Suing a Sultan.

London, Nov. 4.—The case of Miss Jenny Migbell, a handsome young lady of Brighton, who is suing Albert Baker, the Sultan of Johore, for breach of promise of marriage, came up to-day in the queen bench court for argument. The court decided that it had no jurisdiction in the case.

Sir Andrew Clarke's Illness.

London, Nov. 14.—The condition of Sir Andrew Clarke, the distinguished physician, recently stricken with apoplexy, is serious.

Madame Patti Arrives.

New York, Nov. 4.—The steamship Lucania, which arrived to-day, had among her passengers Mme. Adelina Patti and her husband, Signor Nicolini. Mme. Patti has been ill with fever, the result of seasickness. The chief thing noticeable about the diva's appearance is her hair, which retains its original color of glossy raven black.

Died Regretted By All.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The death of Andrew McConnell, on the 3rd instant at Lachute, of pneumonia, after a few days' illness, has cast a gloom over a large circle of friends of the deceased. He was an active member of the Methodist church and for more than a quarter of a century a justice of the peace. He leaves a widow and eight sons and daughters, among whom are D. J. B. McConnell of this city; R. G. McConnell, B.A., of the Geological survey, Ottawa, and G. S. McConnell, of Vancouver, B. C.

The War in Brazil.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Herbert this afternoon received the following from the captain of the U. S. S. Charleston: 'Rio de Janeiro.—Firing goes on daily between the opponents without results looking to a settlement. Thus far there has been no interference with our commerce."

WITH BLOODHOUNDS

Minneapolis and St. Paul Infested With Footpads.

STRONG MEASURES ARE SUGGESTED

To Put Down the Unbearable Nuisance Effectively.

Mayor Eustis of Minneapolis Proposes to Follow Them With English Blood Hounds—St. Paul's Chief Magistrate Concurs—Cuban Dogs Will be Barred —Public Opinion Favors the Plan.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 4.—Highwaymen and thugs have been swarming about the twin cities during the last five months and nightly robberies have been committed. Unoffending persons have been knocked down and robbed and scores of stores pilfered. Mayor Eustis, speaking on the state of affairs, said to-day: "These crimes must be stopped, and I think the best way to do it is to employ bloodhounds. Their effect would be forceful as much from a moral standpoint as from their actual work. I suppose a cry will be raised over the employment of bloodhounds to track human beings at this day, and in this part of the country, but their effect will be less pernicious than the result of having the twin cities powerless in the hands of a gang of desperadoes. Many people favor the plan. We shall not use the Cuban bloodhounds, but the imported English hound, which is the best."

Mayor Wright of St. Paul and Chief of Police Garvin are favorable to the plan.

Baffled Highway Robbers.

Haverhill, Mass., Nov. 4.—The mail and express coach which runs daily between this town and Hampstead, N. H., was ordered to stop by robbers last night near Newton, N. H., six miles from the city. Two men leaped from the underbrush and demanded the mail, baggage and valuables. Driver Merrill, instead of giving up the articles, gave his horses the lash. One of the men was thrown under the horses' hoofs and the other fired three shots at the coach and took to the woods. Driver Merrill said he had a package of money on board, of which the men evidently knew. The passengers, including two women, were badly frightened. When the coach reached Hampstead three bullets were found embedded in it.

Keep Away From Colorado.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—At the request of the local assembly the executive board of the Knights of Labor has issued an official notice requesting miners and smelting hands and laboring people in all branches to stay away from Leadville, Colo. The notice says more than 1000 men seek employment there, with little hopes of anything to do. The home smelters are closed, and the bulk of the ores are too low grade to be shipped at a profit, since the last drop in the price of silver. Consequently times are hard, and worse is looked for during the long winter among the Rockies.

Tired of Dodging.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Jim Day, the noted moonshiner, has been wanted by the police for 15 years. During this time he has worked more stills, disposed of more "white whiskey," and beaten or evaded more revenue officers than any other shiner in the mountains of West Virginia. He is said to have trained dogs, one or more of which always went in advance of him, and others trotted along some distance in the rear. The dogs in front scented the ambush of officers, and before Day came up would run back and by their actions warn him that enemies were in ambush ahead. Day would then, of course, take to the woods and disappear. Should any pursuers come up in his rear, Day's dogs would inform him in a like manner. Day was traced in Bath county, Va., a few days ago, by a West Virginia marshal. When surrounded Day surrendered and was brought back to this state for trial. He says he is tired of the business of dodging the officers and will stand his trial.

Pardoned Whitecaps.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—Governor Northern to-day pardoned eight whitecaps from Carroll county. The men were found guilty of flogging citizens who had incurred their displeasure. Among those whipped were two respectable women, and Judge Harris sentenced the prisoners to 12 months each in the chain gang. A petition was sent to the governor asking pardon for these men. Among the signers were the members of the grand jury and the jury that convicted them, and the judge who presided at the trial. He called on the governor in person. The men pardoned were farmers.

The New La Grippe.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Local physicians say that there is nothing dangerous in the new complaint that has been designated the "World's Fair grip," which is not only prevalent here but appears by reports to have been carried home by World's Fair visitors from different parts of the country. A general languor, severe constriction of the base of the nose and a hacking cough are the principal symptoms. Some physicians regard it as merely a modified form of the old la grippe, and say that it presents no features that are new to medical science.

Just Escaped Lynching.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 4.—Wayne Whitmeyer, a cigarmaker of Ephrata, Lancaster county, was placed in jail on Thursday night charged with attempting to assault Bertha Hartman, a 15-year-old girl, who was driving cows from a pasture. The girl's cries were heard by a woman driving along the road. The man, hearing the carriage approaching, ran from the thicket into which he had carried the girl. He was afterwards captured, a rope fastened about his neck, and he would have been lynched but for the counsels of ex-Alderman Graul and others.

THE TWO TUPPERS.

With Thompson Against Them They Could Not Carry a Seat.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Senator Sullivan, Kingston, is dangerously ill from blood poisoning.

Despatches from Halifax says that while the Herald, the government organ, denies the truth of the story that the Tuppers have resigned over the French treaty, it goes on to say that the two Tuppers could not carry two constituencies in the Maritime provinces with Thompson against them. This is hard on the Tuppers.

Powderly on Prohibition.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—President Powderly of the Knights of Labor has issued a vigorously worded protest against the efforts now being made by the prohibition element to induce congress to authorize the department of labor to make an investigation of the different legislative systems of restricting, regulating and prohibiting the liquor traffic, and to authorize the appropriation of $40,000 for that purpose.

Mr. Powderly says this is an effort to switch the labor department from the main track, and advises all officers and members of labor organizations to withhold their support from such a movement. Alcoholic liquors, he says, will be sold and bought as long as men want them, and public sentiment would be in favor of alcoholic drinks, while the Christian religion is against it.

The minister of religion who rants in the pulpit against liquor will accept pew rent and a liberal contribution from a member of the church who sells liquor. He will on Sunday condemn the habit of selling liquor, he will liken the saloonkeeper to the devil, and on Monday he will go to the devil and accept of half of what he has made in keeping his hell open on Sundays. Mr. Powderly says there is no harm in the census department undertaking the work, and in that view the Knights would be with the prohibitionists, but it is time to call a halt to this eternal interference with the proper work of the department of labor.

American Public Health.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Herald says: "With the personal endorsement of President Cleveland and the approval of practically every important medical society in the United States, a bill creating a bureau of public health in the treasury department has just been completed by the national quarantine committee of the New York Academy of Medicine. It is urged by the physicians who are responsible for the bill that it is not fair to ask the coast states to bear the whole expense of the protection of the nation in times of unusual peril. It is understood the New York chamber of commerce will co-operate with the Academy of Medicine, together with many committees from medical societies, in securing the passage of the bill, which creates 9 sanitary districts in the United States, which cover the whole country. A million dollars is appropriated by the bill, and this is to be expended under the direction of the President, and according to his discretion in meeting emergencies arising out of the enforcement of the act.

Armed Cruisers.

New York, Nov. 4.—It is rumored Flint & Co. were negotiating with the Metropolitan Steamship Company for the purchase of one of the two fine steamers, Herman Winter and H. R. Dimock. These vessels are among the best seagoing boats engaged in the American coast trade. They have been inspected by a board of United States naval officers, with a view to their utilization as United States cruisers in time of war. The crew for the new Brazilian warship El Cid, is practically made up. It was announced yesterday that 250 American seamen had been retained for this vessel. With hardly an exception every man of the crew is under 35. It is said the majority of 4the crew have seen service in warships or vessels of the merchant marine.

Beaten in a Horse Trade.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 4.—James Sorenson, a teamster, killed himself with a rifle yesterday morning because he was beaten in a horse trade yesterday. He was married less than three weeks ago.

Guilty or Not Guilty?

New York, Nov. 4.—The district attorney has decided that Francis H. Weeks shall be allowed to plead to the indictment charging him with embezzling $85,000 of the funds of the Nicolas Fish estate. If he pleads guilty he will be immediately sentenced to not less than 15 years; if he pleads not guilty the trial will be set for some time during the month.

Venezuela's Revolutionary Chief.

New York, Nov. 4.—Hernandez, chief of the revolutionists in Venezuela in 1892, was arrested here to-day. Two actions have been brought against him arising out of the capture of the city of Bolivar. One suit will be brought by Underhill, an American, to recover $75,000 for the breaking up of his business while in the city of Bolivar and falsely imprisoning himself and wife. The wife brings suit on similar grounds for $25,000. Gen. Hernandez was released on $15,000 bail.

Nine Men Drowned.

New York, Nov. 4.—Twenty workmen who were going to South Beach, Staten Island, from Swinburne Island in a small boat this forenoon were thrown into the water by the capsizing of the boat. Nine are known to have been drowned.

Graves After Squirrels.

Washington, Nov. 4.—President Cleveland celebrated the adjournment of congress yesterday by going squirrel shooting to-day with Secretary Gresham, in a strip of woods four miles northeast of Woodley, where good squirrel shooting is to be obtained.

HORRORS OF WAR

Reported Ramming of the Brazilian Troopship

RIO DE JANEIRO BY REBEL CRUISER

Republica, Confirmed by Despatches to London.

Thirteen Hundred Soldiers Perished With the Transport—Fearful Dynamite Explosion at Santander, Spain—King Lobenguela is Still Free—He is Waiting to Attack English Invaders.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 4.—The rumor that the insurgent cruiser Republica sank the government transport Rio de Janeiro, carrying a large number of soldiers to Rio Grande do Sul, has been current here and in Montevideo for some days. Details hitherto unreported came by wire yesterday from an alleged authoritative source in Rio de Janeiro. Nevertheless all efforts to confirm the story have been unsuccessful.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 3.—Hayti is in a practical state of siege. The cause is declared to be the fact that President Hippolyte is morally bound by a secret treaty to cede Mole St. Nicholas to the United States, and he is disposed to fulfill his contract provided the latter will assist him against a revolt which might be occasioned thereby.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 4.—The republic of Ecuador is putting her seaboard defences in order and adding modern improvements thereto. Guayquil, the capital, is receiving an enormous quantity of munitions of war from the south, which may have given rise to the suspicion that Chile is inciting Ecuador against Peru. Troops are being drilled incessantly. No reason is given by the government for these warlike preparations. It may be that the administration scents revolution, and is getting ready for it.

The government proposes to fix the value of the silver dollar at 60 cents.

Awful Loss of Life.

London, Nov. 4.—A private dispatch received here confirms the report published on Nov. 1st that the rebel Brazilian warship Republica sank the government transport Rio de Janeiro. The despatch says 1,300 soldiers perished in the sinking of the transport.

Lobenguela Still Free.

London, Nov. 4.—A dispatch from Mashonaland dated to-day says Lobenguela has not been captured. He has rallied his forces and is near Bulawayo, where he is apparently awaiting the attack of the English. A battle is imminent.

Terrible Dynamite Explosion.

Santander, Spain, Nov. 4.—The ship Volo with a cargo of dynamite, lying at the quay, caught fire last evening. A crowd gathered to witness the fire. Before the flames could be quenched they reached the cargo and an explosion followed which shook the city to its foundation. Every house around the quay was wrecked. The explosion killed many and a large number are injured. The governor of the province is believed to be among the dead. The fire spread to the adjacent quay.

Some estimates place the number of killed and injured at upwards of one thousand, it will probably be less, but there is no doubt that the number is large. Many living persons are buried in the ruins of the houses. A regiment of infantry was put to work to-day clearing away the debris. Already they have come across masses of human flesh. The hospitals are filled with the injured.

Boiler Explosion Victims.

New York, Nov. 4.—Two more victims of the East Fourteenth street car stables boiler explosion died at Bellevue hospital this morning.

His Name Was Booze.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Wm. Booze, a saloonkeeper on Messrole avenue, Greenpoint, died at the hospital to-day. He was shot in a drunken fracas last night.

For Brazil's Navy.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Two agents of the Brazilian government have been in the city for the last ten days collecting information as to the speed, coal capacity and construction of a number of steamers sailing from this port, which information has been cabled to the government headquarters at Rio de Janeiro. Efforts have been quietly made to secure crews of good men for vessels to sail for Rio from this port. A British tramp steamer, Sirius, has, by request, been offered by her owners to the Brazilian agents, but no sale has yet been effected.

The Alexandria Disaster.

Havana, Nov. 4.—It is now known positively that only three persons lost their lives by the burning of the steamer City of Alexandria. The names are: Bowen, purser; Thomas Lindon, quartermaster, and Wm. Foster, oiler. The missing are Geo. Smith and Lewis Block, waiters; G. Ramierez, Andes Suroz, Troy Cesario, Abelardo Belfrank, Florentio Vina.

One More Railway Massacre.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 4.—A gravel train was wrecked on the Ohio Southern this morning. Several cars went down a steep embankment, among them a box car containing 30 Italian laborers. Two were killed and eleven injured so badly it is thought they will die. All the men were badly cut.

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A freight and an express collided on the Lehigh Valley railroad near Morganville this morning. Two firemen and an engineer are reported to have been killed.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Opening of the Autumn Session—The Position of the Parnellites.

London, Nov. 3.—The house of commons reassembled yesterday with a small attendance. Right Hon. Henry Fowler, president of the local government board, amid cheers from the Liberal benches, moved the second reading of the England and Wales local government bill. While Mr. Fowler was speaking Mr. Gladstone, looking bright and well, entered the house and was received with enthusiastic cheers. The house adjourned at midnight after a dull session.

The Liverpool Courier reports that there is serious defection in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet, and that Mr. Fowler, president of the local government board, demands further protection for Ulster whenever the home rule bill is introduced.

John Redmond, leader of the Parnellites, in reply to a recent statement by T. P. O'Connor, the McCarthyite, says the attitude of the Parnellites has been misrepresented; that they have not promulgated a new policy, and that the policy of the Parnellites toward the Liberal party is precisely what it has been all along. The Parnellites were willing to support the Liberals as long as they remain true to their pledges to Ireland, but are absolutely independent, and mean to let them know that by paltering with home rule they will convert the Parnellites from supporters into opponents.

It is not the intention of the Parnellites to throw Mr. Gladstone out of power and restore Lord Salisbury. What they intend is to give the present government to understand that its existence depends on Irish votes, and that the price to be paid therefor is adherence to its pledges on the question of home rule. The reason for calling attention to this fact now is that the attitude of the Liberal party toward home rule has entirely changed since Parnell's death. Mr. Gladstone then declared that Ireland blocked the way, and the only way to get legislation for British interests was to assist to pass home rule, but now it is proposed to hang up home rule and take up a long list of British reforms, in order, they claim, to be able to carry the next election.

John Redmond admits the truth of this claim, and says it is the intention of the party to see that only the proper kinds of British reforms are proceeded with, and that the elections are not indefinitely postponed, otherwise home rule will be hung up indefinitely. He declares that if the Newcastle programme is carried out home rule will not come up again in five or six years. He points out that Mr. Gladstone is an old man, and to put home rule off so long would be to relegate it to some one unfriendly or less able to effect his desires than Mr. Gladstone. Therefore Ireland must continue to block the way. He declares that if the Parnellites can have an assurance that dissolution of parliament will take place at the end of 1894, they will be content to help purely British measures during all the next year.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Savary Island the Scene of a Bloody Tragedy and Robbery.

Vancouver, Nov. 3.—Jack Green, a wealthy rancher of Savary island, and Tom Taylor, his hired man, were shot as they were about to retire for the night probably last Friday. Robbery was the motive, as Green's strong box was said to contain $10,000. Rifles, ammunition, a boat and quantities of provisions are missing. Lynn, a rough character, who was lately employed by Green, has also disappeared. The murderer, whoever he is, has a weeks' start, and is well stocked with ammunition and provisions. The bodies of the murdered men and the story of the tragedy were brought in by Magistrate Manson on the steamer Stella at 9 to-night. Mr. Manson says Green lived on Savary island seven years. Tom Taylor and Hugh Lynn were living with him. Lynn had been in jail several times. He had been drinking heavily on the 26th. A light was seen in the Green house next morning, but on the succeeding morning there were no signs of life, the murder having been probably committed on Friday.

Dick Lewis and Albert Handsen found the bodies on Monday afternoon and notified Magistrate Manson. Taylor was lying face downward and was shot in the back. He must have died instantly, as his pipe was still in his hand. Green was partly undressed, as if retiring. He was near the door, as if his hand had just dropped from the latch. He was shot through the breast just above the heart. Blood was also on the bed. It is thought he walked from the bed to the door after being shot. Green's pocketbook was gone. It was known to contain $1,000. Green is also thought to have had about $10,000 in the hut, as he would never bank his money. Everything of value was taken from the house and the store robbed. All the articles not taken away from the house were smashed with rifle bullets. This was evidently a ruse on the murderer's part, and he put old rusty unused guns in the right hand of each murdered man. Green's boat was also taken. Lynn lived with a klootchman and a boy close by. The klootchman and the boy are also missing. The coroner was notified on the arrival of the steamer and will hold an inquest to-day. Green was 76 and very lame. Taylor's relatives live here

GENERAL DISPATCHES.

News in Brief From Various Parts of the World.

Paris, Nov. 3.—A frontier incident has occurred near Saint Die, in the department of Vosges, that is likely to cause trouble until settled. A German forest guard yesterday killed two French poachers whom he found on territory annexed to Germany as the result of the war of 1870-71.

Rome, Nov. 3.—Cardinal Carlo Laurenzi is dead. Carlo Laurenzi was a native of Perugia, aged 70. He was created cardinal in 1884, and was secretary of memorials at the Vatican at the time of his death. During the last years of Pius IX's pontificate he was vicar-general of the Pope's diocese, and Leo XIII appointed him auditor-general of the Vatican, afterward giving him a higher office. In the event of Leo's death he would have been a candidate for pope.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Colonial enthusiasts in Germany are worrying Chancellor von Caprivi with requests that he call upon France to explain by what right she has erected armed stations in the Hinterland of the Cameroons, north of the line of demarcation established in 1885. They say that France has defied openly her treaty obligations and must be checked. Unless they receive satisfactory assurances from the chancellor, they will raise in the Reichstag the question of French agression in West Africa.

Cape Town, Nov. 4.—Advices received from Fort Victoria at noon give an estimate of the Matabele losses as reported by the natives. In the first skirmish the Matabele lost 200 men. In the fight at the great Laager 1500, and on the following day 250. The chartered company's troops have burned Lobenguela's great military kraal at Buluwayo.

London, Nov. 3.—In the House of Commons to-day, Rt. Hon. Mr. Gladstone promised at the earliest opportunity to promote a measure for the appointment of a board of arbitration to prevent strikes.

AMERICAN NEWS NOTES

Daily Chronicle of Events in the Great Republic.

Seattle, Nov. 3.—There is considerable agitation on the meat question at present, which is explained by the fact that the supply is much in excess of the demand, hence the prices of meats are very much lower than has ever been known in Seattle. Beginning to-morrow at a "spot cash and no delivery counter" in the Fulton market, meats will be sold at from 3 to 8 cents per pound that have heretofore sold for 6 to 15 cents per pound.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—The Wells-Fargo Express Company has renewed its contract for the express franchise of the Southern Pacific system for 21 years, from Jan. 21st, 1894, paying a bonus of $1,750,000 of new stock in addition to the regular payment for transportation of express matter. The express company's stock will thus be $8,000,000, of which the Southern Pacific has received $4,000,000 on bonuses.

New York, Nov. 4.—It is understood in society circles that the marriage of Miss Isabelle Murphy, daughter of the late Daniel T. Murphy, of San Francisco, to Senor Don Louis Domingues, son of the Argentine minister to England, will be solemnized during the second week in December, but whether it will take place in this city or London has not yet been decided. Miss Murphy's sister Helen, the famous beauty, was married last month to the only brother of the groom-elect. Thus, two American girls of fortune unite their fortunes with two South American brothers of wealth and high station.

New York, Nov. 3.—The railway and miscellaneous share market opened quiet and firm. Prices advanced 1-4 to 1 per cent, American sugar and Lackawanna leading. Sugar rose to 101 and Lacakwanna to 172. Louisville & Nashville, however, jumped 1 5-8, 50 on foreign buying.

Washington, Nov. 3.—A message was received from the senate asking an extension of time till 4:30 o'clock to give the house further time to filibuster, but before the vote on the adoption of the resolution could be called 3 o'clock arrived and the speaker declared the house adjourned sine die.

New York, Nov. 3.—Christian Calthorp Gunning, niece of the late Leland Stanford, and beneficiary to the extent of $100,000 under the will, is defendant in litigation instituted by the Lincoln bank to collect the face value and interest on a $5,000 note. The note was executed by her husband and endorsed by Mrs. Gunning. Judgment was obtained against her in Connecticut. A motion was made to-day in the supreme court to set this judgment aside, on the ground that her husband, who is dead, forced her to sign the note and others. The motion was denied.

END OF CONGRESS.

No Excitement Attended the Close of the Extraordinary Session.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The first or extraordinary session of congress is a thing of the past. Its career closed this afternoon at a few minutes past 3. As the vice-president said, in a parting speech, its record is made up and henceforth it belongs to the domain of history. There was a pretentious effort earlier to-day to defeat the resolution for final adjournment, in which some half dozen Democrats, two Populists and one Republican joined, but it was not intended to be of any avail, and, of course, was not. It was started by Mr. Coke (Democrat, Texas), who said that the Democratic party had everything to lose and nothing to gain by adjournment, leaving the tariff, the federal elections bill and other matters not acted on, while the Republican party had everything to gain and nothing to lose by it. The Nebraska Populist, Mr. Allen, threatened to defeat adjournment by demanding the yeas and nays, holding there was no quorum to transact business. However the resolution was agreed to without yeas and nays, and the adjournment took place accordingly.

The closing day of the extraordinary session was an exciting one in the house. Little business was done, but a few private bills were introduced and referred to the committees or put on the house calendar. The only substantial achievement was the final disposition of the bill, allowing a rebate on the duty on Fair exhibits acquired by the Columbian Museum, otherwise the greater portion of the three hours' session of the house was spent in a wrangle over the pay and back pay of congressional employees. After a few minutes' filibustering, led by Mr. Hutchinson, of Texas, Mr. Sayers succeeded in getting through the house a resolution providing for the salaries of these people up to the next session; but when the bill came back from the senate laden with the circular amendment relative to back pay of senatorial clerks, that had caused the failure of the urgent deficiency appropriations, the load was too much for the chairman of the committee, and before he could secure final action on the resolution, as amended, the hour set for adjourning, 2 o'clock, arrived, and the speaker's gavel sounded the death of the resolution, for this session, at least. All these proceedings were attended with great confusion, and on the whole the adjournment was lacking in the dignity and solemnity usual on such occasions.

SAVE THE BABIES!

Too Many Deaths!

Mothers Responsible!

Better Food Wanted!

WHAT SCIENCE HAS DONE TO SAVE BABY LIFE!

The press and thinking people of Canada continually cry out on behalf of "baby life." Too many deaths occur from day to day owing to the carelessness of mothers in the matter of feeding. Baby life, with its weak digestive powers and undeveloped organs requires a food as near mother's milk as it can be made. Science has given lactated food to the world, for the sustenance and preservation of little ones. This lactated food is easily assimilated; it never irritates the stomach and bowels; it is a health giver and producer of fat, bone and muscle. Lactated food saves from diarrhoea and dysentery, and has the grandest record as a saver of infant life. Mothers who have given this food any trial, never use any other. If baby is not doing well, we say, try lactated food, the mother's friend and infant's health-giver.

MURDERED A MONK.

A Religious Riot Over the Spot Where Christ Was Born.

Jerusalem, Oct. 31.—During a religious festival in the Church of the Nativity, at Bethlehem, on Friday evening, a trivial dispute arose, which engendered a riot. A monk was shot and killed, and two other persons were wounded. The dead monk and both wounded men are Italians. The Italian consul here has appealed to the Turkish government to punish the murderer, who, however, made his escape during the excitement attending the murder.

The Church of the Nativity in which the affray occurred, is in the convent of the nativity, which is said to enclose the manger in which Jesus Christ was born. The convent is a large square building, more resembling a fortress than a convent.

The Church of the Nativity is subdivided among Latins, Greeks and Armenians, each having a separate portion of the edifice for devotional purposes. The church is built in the form of the cross. The nave, which is by far the finest part of the building, belongs to the Armenians, and is supported by 48 beautiful Corinthian columns of granite, each between two and three feet in thickness and about 17 feet in height.

The other portions of the church forming the arms of a cross are walled up. At the further end of this section, which forms the head of the cross, is sculptured a marble star which, Bethlehemites say, covers the central point of each arm. Here a long and intricate passage descends to the crypt below, where the Virgin Mary is said to have been delivered. The walls of the chambers are hung with draperies of the gayest colors, and a silver star with the words "Hic de Virgine Maria Jesus Christus natus est" marks the spot of nativity. The manger stands in a low recess cut in the rock a few feet from the star.

and have induced many to use it.

"Thirty-five years ago this spring, I was run down by hard work and a succession of colds, which made me so feeble that it was an effort for me to walk. I consulted the doctors, but kept sinking lower until I had given up all hope of ever being better. Happening to be in a store, one day, where medicines were sold, the proprietor noticed my weak and sickly appearance, and, after a few questions as to my health, recommended me to try Ayer's Pills. I had little faith in these or any other medicine, but concluded, at last, to take his advice and try a box. Before I had used them all, I was very much better, and two boxes cured me. I am now 80 years old; but I believe that if it had not been for Ayer's Pills, I should have been in my grave long ago. I buy 6 boxes every year, which make 216 boxes up to this time, and I would no more be without them than without bread."—H. H. Ingraham, Rockland, Me.

Miss Hicock's Case.

Delta, Ont., Oct. 23.—Miss Ida I. Hicock, of Parry Sound, is a young lady well known and highly esteemed in this section of country. It was with much pleasure, therefore, that her friends here read the dispatch from Parry Sound, last week, containing the news of her recovery from the nervous prostration and insomnia with which she has been troubled since she had la grippe in 1891. Considerable anxiety was felt concerning her, for all considered her case serious. Her recovery being due to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has added one more valuable testimony to the efficacy of this remedy, which, judged by its good works, may justly be termed the most valuable remedy known to-day.

Politics in Austria.

Vienna, Nov. 3.—Count Taafe, premier and one of the leaders of the Polish and Conservative deputies, has called his confreres to confer with him as to the political situation. He states there are no prospects of his return to power. He recommended Prince Windescharache as the best to succeed him. The prince, he said, enjoyed the confidence of the coalition party in the Reichsrath, besides being on good terms with the Hungarian politicians. The German Liberals met in a public hall to-day to discuss the attitude of the parties toward Taafe and suffrage reform. Only persons who had been invited were admitted. The proceedings were hardly begun when the Socialists stormed the hall. They [illegible] in the doors and marched down the aisles shouting for universal suffrage. A dozen policemen, who were called from the street, ordered the Socialists to leave, but without effect. A police company were summoned and they charged with drawn sabres. Most of the German Liberals had left by this time, but the Socialists still refused to go. After a fight at close quarters they were driven out. Forty-five Socialists and eight policemen were injured. Ten Socialists were arrested.

A LAKEPORT MIRACLE.

AN EXPERIENCE FEW COULD PASS THROUGH AND SURVIVE

Broken Down by Congestion of the Lungs and La Grippe—Weary Months of Sleepless Suffering—A Narrow Escape.

From the Colborne Enterprise.

The village of Lakeport in the county of Northumberland is beautifully situated on the shores of Lake Ontario, two and a half miles from the town of Colborne. The location of the village is picturesque and healthy, and as a rule the inhabitants of Colborne are a vigorous people, with very little trouble from sickness. But there are exceptions, and even in this healthy locality occasional cases of suffering and long periods of weary sickness are found. Among those thus unfortunate are Mrs. Milo Haight, who for nearly two years was a great sufferer, sickness having made such inroads in her constitution that she was almost a wreck physically. Although a young woman her system had run down till life had almost become a burden. She had consulted physicians and tried many remedies, but no relief was found. Her attention was finally directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and having read of the wonderful cures effected by this great life saving remedy, was induced to give them a trial. The result exceeded her greatest expectations, and before long she was restored to her former health and strength. Having heard of this case, the Enterprise reporter called on Mrs. Haight, and enquired into the facts, which are given almost verbatim in the following statement: "I was ill for about twelve weeks in the latter part of 1891 while at home with my father in Trenton. I came to Lakeport, but was here only a few weeks when I was taken with inflammation of the bowels. After I had sufficiently recovered I returned to Trenton. I had not been at home long when I was attacked with la grippe, which brought me nearly to death's door. A physician was called in, who said my system was badly run down. This was in February, 1892, and I was under his care for some twelve weeks before I was able to get out of doors. When I was taken down congestion of the lungs and spine set in, and then the trouble went to my throat, and lastly to my ear, causing an abscess which gathered and broke three times, leaving me quite deaf. I suffered the most excruciating pains, sleep left me and I could not rest. I suffered continually with cold chills and cold hands and feet and severe headaches. The doctor gave me no hope of recovery. As soon as I was able I returned to Lakeport, but did not improve in health, and I felt that death would be a relief. In June, 1892, I was using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and had not been taking them long when the chills left me, my appetite improved and sleep returned, something which I had not enjoyed for many long, weary months. After taking the Pink Pills for some weeks I began to feel as though I could stand almost anything. In the month of June, 1892, I weighed 114 pounds, and in April, 1893, I weighed 151 pounds, my greatest weight. I took the Pink Pills for about four months, but I now resort to them for any trouble, even a slight headache. I truly believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold, and I owe my health and strength, if not my life, to them. My eyes were weak at the time I was sick, but I have had no such experience since the time I began the use of Pink Pills. I take great pleasure in thus making known my case, hoping that some fellow-creature may be benefited thereby. I allow no opportunity to pass without speaking well of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I know several persons who began their use on my recommendation and were greatly benefited by them. My father, who is some seventy years of age, is receiving great help from their use. I can truthfully say I cannot speak too highly of Pink Pills, and I would not be without them in the house under any circumstances."

Mrs. Haight's husband is also taking the pills for rheumatism, and being present at the interview, gave testimony as to their benefit to him. Mrs. Haight's present appearance indicates the best of health, and no one who did not know of her long suffering would imagine from her present appearance that she had ever been sick. Her case is one that cannot but give the strongest hope to other sufferers, that they too may be cured by the use of the wonderful Pink Pills, whose action upon the human system seems almost magical.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are manufactured by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., and Schnectady, N.Y. Pink Pills are not a patent medicine, but a prescription. An analysis of their properties shows that these pills are an unfailing specific for all diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the blood or from the impairment of the nervous system, such as loss of appetite, depression of spirits, anaemia, chlorosis or green sickness, general muscular weakness, dizziness, loss of memory, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, the after effects of la grippe, scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, correcting irregularities, suppressions and all forms of female weakness, building anew the blood and restoring the glow of health to the pale and sallow cheek. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from worry, over work or excesses of any nature. These pills are not a purgative medicine, they contain only life-giving properties and nothing that could injure the most delicate system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark. They are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against all other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, put up in similar form, intended to deceive. Ask your dealer for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., from either address, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. The prices at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

GLORIOUS WAR.

Mowing Down Half-Armed Savages—Over 1000 Slaughtered.

Cape Town, Nov. 3.—When last reported, King Lobenguela was trying to rally his troops in the vicinity of the Shangeie river and Kwelo, about 100 miles from Buluwayo and 140 miles west of Fort Carter. He seems, from the dispatches, to have fallen into a trap. His further flight north toward the Zambesi river is blocked, while the tsetse-fly country is in his rear, Fort Salisbury on his right flank and on the left the English columns are advancing. It is expected he will be compelled to surrender in a few days. During the march toward the Kwelo river the British saw numerous bodies of the Matabele, but they always retreated. On the night of Oct. 30th Major Forbes sent a body of scouts in the direction of the headquarters of the strongest Matabele regiment. They found the insurgent impi in large force, apparently prepared to make a desperate resistance. When informed of this Major Forbes sent forward a force of 100 troopers, supported by two rapid firing guns. They felt their way carefully to within a short distance of the kraal, placed the Maxim guns in a commanding position and then charged. To the astonishment of the troopers they found not a single soul in the kraal, but saw the Matabele in full flight in the distance.

On Oct. 13th a small body of English under Capt. White, guarding a lot of prisoners, were attacked by the Matabele. The latter were repulsed after a sharp engagement, in which several were killed. The English lost a number, including Capt. Gudette. After the English column crossed the Shangeie river they were constantly surrounded by the Matabele, who feared, however, to attack.

On Oct. 31st the Matabele 5,000 strong made a furious attack on the English from several sides at once. They showed admirable courage and discipline. The English reserved their fire until the Matabele were at close range, then opened on them with Martini rifles and Maxim rapid-firing guns. The Matabele came on desperately for a time, but could not withstand the fearful slaughter. They finally broke and fled, leaving 500 killed and wounded on the field and carrying with them hundreds of others wounded, besides those able to stagger away in retreat, many of whom have since died. The English loss was only two killed and six wounded. From there to Buluwayo the English found the way unobstructed, the Matabele being evidently too disheartened to attempt further resistance.

London, Nov. 3.—The Daily News' special from Fort Victoria says, concerning the expedition against the Matabele:

Every night was spent by the troops in a strongly fortified lager. Every morning, an hour before dawn, every man stood to his arms, each in his allotted place. This plan of campaign was urged by Selous and other experts, and events have justified its wisdom. Lobenguela never had a chance. He was utterly routed. The night of the main attack had been very still, and nobody dreamed that Lobenguela's main army was so near. On the last attack the enemy did not stop to use their spears, but broke and fled at the first taste of the Maxims. The troops went for the Matabele with loud cheers and shouting. There was much fierce hacking, thrusting and shooting with revolvers at close quarters. The Matabele ruck, but for the broken ground, would have been exterminated. It is estimated that a thousand were killed and wounded.

Military Morals.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Brigadier-General Sternberg, surgeon of the United States army, in his report to the secretary of war concerning the health of the army, gives comparisons showing that the death rate of the United States army compared with the other armies is about as follows: United Sttes, per 1,000 of mean strength, 6.44; Great Britain, 5.53; Austria, 6; Hungary, 5.47; Italy, 8.96; and Prussian-Saxony and Wurtemburg, 3.32. The statement of the English and German armies is exclusive of officers. The absolute number of deaths in the United States army last year was 1.1.3. Diseases were less frequent among the negro troops and Indians than the whites. Alcoholism was also more prevalent among the whites. The 22 cases of suicide in the army during the year are equivalent to a ratio of 0.82 per cent per 1,000 of the strength, as compared with 0.83 during the previous year. The last reported annual rates of suicide in foreign armies was: 0.21 in the British, 0.33 in the Italian, 0.54 in the Prussian and 1.18 in the Austro-Hungarian. Of the 22 suicides most of them were members of white commands, including one officer. The cases among the colored troops, four suicides, were Indians.

The Gallant Fellow-Passenger.

Lily Berties, the juvenile soubrette, had been spending her holidays on the Lake of Geneva. When about to return to Paris she was accosted at the railway station by a young gentleman whom she had never seen before. He handed her a large basket of gold straw, filled with the choicest flowers, and said: "I am also going to Paris, and these flowers shall serve to introduce us to each other."

When, on their arrival in Paris, Mlle. Lily stepped into a cab, the stranger said to her: "If you will wait a moment, I will have the basket filled with sweets in place of the flowers, as the latter are faded."

On receiving the basket five minutes aftewards, the soubrette was astonished at its lightness, and told her companion so.

"No wonder," said the gentleman, "your little hands have conveyed duty free across the frontier eighteen keyless watches which lay concealed in the moss." So saying, he lifted his hat and disappeared.—Le Figaro.

A WELL-KNOWN PRIEST.

His Words Have Influenced Thousands in Canada

Clergymen of all denominations have of late done much to benefit the health and general physical condition of our people.

Many good and right thinking men and women are of opinion that the faithful clergyman can in many ways show to his people the way of health as well as pointing to them the way of salvation.

Men and women, in order to become good and active Christians, should first have health and strength, if there is a possibility of getting these blessings. He or she who struggles with disease and pain has not power to actively advance the work of our common Master.

How mad and foolish—yes, hypocritical—to urge a starving or famishing man or woman to give up worldly thoughts and sins and look for the peace that cometh from above. To do good, the pangs of hunger must first be appeased; then will it be in order to talk of things spiritual.

In like manner should clergymen and all good church people deal with the sick and suffering. They must first be relieved of physical agony before the sin-sick soul is directed to the great physician. It is cheering to know that our clergymen and many true church people recognise this fact and are doing a quiet but grand work for those in agony and disease.

Ministers and priests have not thought it derogatory to their dignity and standing in the church to show their people how broken-down health can be restored, and to explain how a new and better physical life may be obtained.

Clergymen in Canada who have been great sufferers from nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism and kidney and liver troubles have found a complete cure in Paine's Celery Compound, and have publicly testified for the benefit of humanity.

Many a letter have we received from men and women who have been rescued from death, stating that their clergyman had advised and strongly recommended Paine's Celery Compound.

Never before in the history of any Christian land has there existed a medicine that has alike interested clergy and people. All speak strongly and approvingly of Paine's Celery compound and never hesitate to recommend it.

The Rev. A. Ouellet, parish priest of Shediac, N. B., one of the ablest priests of the lower provinces, is an ardent advocate of nature's great medicine. The reverend gentleman found in Paine's Celery Compound a new life that he could not obtain from any other source. He writes as follows for the benefit of every Canadian:

"Of Paine's Celery Compound I can speak from experience. I had been laid up from fever and rheumatic gout from the 5th of January till the middle of June; hence my system was fearfully run down. I was very thin and so feeble that for weeks I could not move along without help. I then began to take Paine's Celery Compound according to prescription and to-day I am as fleshy and strong as I was ten years ago.

"I do not say that I am radically cured as yet from gout; but the attacks are much less frequent; in fact, I have not been one single day prevented from attending to my usual work since that time. I therefore take great pleasure in certifying to the wonderful efficacy of that marvellous medicine.

"As a blood purifier it has no equal, and its beneficial influence on the digestive system cannot be questioned. I do not hesitate to advise sick persons to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair trial in the various ailments for which it is recommended. As far as I am concerned I intend to follow up, if possible the celery treatment until a complete cure is effected."

HERE AND THERE.

The first glass window in England was put put in the Teltrom abbey in the year 680 A.D. Glass windows did not come into general use for many hundreds of years after that date. As late as 1517 the glass casements of Ainsworth castle were regularly taken down and packed away whenever the owner and his family went visiting.

The oak is a historic wood. As early as the eleventh century it became the favorite wood of civilized Europe, and specimens of carving and interior finish have come down to us from that early day, their pristine beauty enhanced by the subduing finger of time. The early colonists brought with them to the shores of America their love for wood, and here, too, the oak acquired historical interest.

The La Belle Creole troupe of colored female minstrels has had rather a rough time of it in southwest Louisiana. The name produced intense indignation among the creoles, the whites of French or Spanish descent. The word creole is never applied in Louisiana to persons of mixed blood, and its application to quadroons or other colored persons always arouses their anger. The troupe struck a rock at the Louisiana line. At Lake Charles no violence was shown them, but they played to an empty house. At New Iberia the situation was so threatening that they jumped their engagement. When they reached Lafayette they found that a meeting had been held to denounce their attempt to besmirch the fair name of Louisiana by parading a crowd of quadroon women as creoles, and a committee, headed by the mayor, informed them that they could not play there, but had better leave town at once. They have concluded it safest not to appear in Louisiana.

An interesting departure in engineering is the introduction of marine engines for land service, and the plan is commended by so good an authority as the Age of Steel. One of the best electric illuminating companies, it appears, has adopted them in its works and concerning their economy in respect to space and power it is reported that the land engine takes up some ten times as much space as the marine engine and the marine quadruple expansion engine has ten times the heating surface of the land engine. Further, the new quadruplex two-crank expansion engine is twice as powerful as the triple expansion three-crank engine, occupies also 30 per cent. less room, and carries regularly 210 pounds of steam; the land engine carries only 80 or 90 pounds of steam, and gets one horse power out of from four to ten pounds of anthracite coal, while the quadruple expansion marine engine develops one horse power out of one and a quarter pounds of Welsh coal, that is, according to these data, the land engine requires from two to four times as much coal as the marine engine to produce the same power.

NO. 207.

A BY-LAW

The Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:—

Sec. 1. It shall, be the duty of the City Engineer to make out, or cause to be made out, and report to the Council a general specification for the construction of house or building connections with the branch, main or common sewers, and for the sewerage and plumbing connected therewith, of all buildings to be hereafter erected in the City of Victoria.

Sec. 2 When such report or any amendment thereof has been adopted by the Council, the said specification, in its original or amended form, shall become the standard city specification for the works referred to in section one of this by-law.

Sec. 3. The owner of any building or premises used as a dwelling-house, hotel, restaurant, saloon, shop, store, office, factory, wash-house, or otherwise, shall, provided such building or any portion thereof be within one hundred and fifty feet of a branch, main or common sewer, cause all water-closets, sinks, wash-tubs, baths, etc., in the said building, and down pipes from the roof of such building, to be properly connected with such sewers in accordance with the provisions of this by-law; and shall cause all existing plumbing in connection therewith to be placed in good sanitary condition, to the satisfaction of the City Engineer.

Sec. 4. Whenever it shall be deemed desirable to have a connection made between any building or premises and a branch, main or common sewer, the City Engineer shall send to the owner of such building or premises a written notice to have such connection made, accompanied by a copy of the standard specification aforesaid. And if, after the expiration of 30 days from the date of such notice, or such extended time as may be granted as hereinafter mentioned, the connection is not made in accordance with such specifications the City Engineer may have the work done at the expense of the owner of said building or premises, and such expense may be recovered by the Corporation in any Court of competent jurisdiction from such owner, or by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such owner; provided, however, that the City Engineer may grant for cause such extension of time to make the connection as he may deem advisable, not however exceeding thirty days, and after the expiration of such extended time may have the work done as aforesaid, at the expense of the owner, which expense may be recovered as foresaid.

Sec. 5. All privy vaults, dry-earth closets, and cess-pools in use for buildings coming under clauses 3 and 4 of this by-law, shall be cleaned out and filled up with clean dry earth or gravel, and water-closets substituted therefor where necessary.

Sec. 6. The sewerage and plumbing connected therewith of all buildings, both public and private, hereafter erected in the City of Victoria, shall be executed in accordance with the specification aforesaid, and with plans approved of by the City Engineer.

Sec. 7. Suitable drawings and detailed description of the sewerage and plumbing connected therewith of any proposed building or premises required to be connected with the sewer shall in every case be submitted for approval to the City Engineer by the architect of such buildings or premises, or by the person at whose expense such building is to be connected, and if approved, said drawings or copies thereof made at the expense of the parties connecting the building shall be filed in the office of the City Engineer; all such plans to be legibly drawn in ink on heavy white paper or on tracing cloth to a scale of eight feet to the inch.

Sec. 8. The architect or person erecting any building, or constructing any sewerage or plumbing work, shall send due notice to the City Engineer when the construction of the said building is sufficiently far advanced for inspection of the sewerage and plumbing aforesaid, and no part of any such sewerage and plumbing shall be covered up or concealed in any way until after it has been examined and approved in writing by the City Engineer.

Sec. 9. Whenever called upon so to do by the City Engineer, the owner of any building erected in the City of Victoria prior to the passage of this by-law shall forward to the City Engineer, to be placed on file, drawings and description of the sewerage and plumbing connected therewith of said building.

Sec. 10. No person other than a licensed plumber, or pipe-layer authorized by the City Engineer, as the case may require, shall be employed or permitted to make any connection with a branch, main, or common sewer, or with any sewer leading thereto, or to do any plumbing connected with the sewerage of any building.

Sec. 11. No extension of any sewerage work previously accepted, or alteration to, or new connections with, such work, shall be made, except under the authority of the City Engineer, as provided for in this by-law.

Sec. 12. In tenement houses, containing more than one family, there shall be one water-closet for each family, and a separate cistern for each closet; in other houses, however, a group of closets, but not water-closets, on different floors, may be supplied from one tank.

Sec. 13. Except as provided in section 4 of this by-law, no person shall construct, reconstruct, alter, or extend any portion of the sewerage or plumbing work connected therewith of any building or premises, or make connection of such with any branch, main, or common sewer, unless he shall have previously made application for and obtained a permit therefor; such application is to be made upon the printed form supplied at the office of the City Engineer, and shall be accompanied by drawings and a detailed description of the proposed work as provided in section 7 of this by-law.

Sec. 14. A permit shall be granted or refused within seven days of the time of filing the application, and the permit of the City Engineer (if granted) shall be valid for three months from the date of issue, but no street shall be used for the making of the connection with any branch, main or common sewer for a greater length of time than the time mentioned in the permit.

Sec. 15. If the City Engineer shall find that the said plans and detailed description do not conform with the requirements of the specification adopted from time to time by the Council in respect to the sewerage and plumbing connected therewith, of buildings and premises in the City of Victoria, he shall not issue any permit for such sewerage or plumbing, and it shall be unlawful to proceed therewith.

Sec. 16. After a plan and detailed description have once been approved of by the City Engineer, no alteration or deviation from the same will be allowed, except on the written permission of the said Engineer.

Sec. 17. All existing sewers conveying sewage from any premises into any surface drain, box drain, cesspool, or other receptacle, for discharging sewage into the harbour or upon the shore of the Straits of Fuca, other than at the outlet for the sewage at Clover Point, shall so soon as he sewer is constructed in a street adjoining such premises, be disused, taken up, removed, altered, improved, or reconstructed, as the City Engineer may deem advisable, and the said premises shall be connected with the general sewerage system of the city.

Sec. 18. No exhaust from steam engines, or blow-off from steam-boilers, shall be connected with either public or private sewers.

Sec. 19. No person shall use any sewer in an improper manner, by placing or allowing any substance other than ordinary sewage to enter the sewer through opening, trap or fitting connected therewith.

Sec. 20. The expense of keeping in repair branch sewers to buildings and premises shall be borne by the proprietor of the building or premises using any such branch sewers. If any such branch sewers, or the traps connected therewith, shall at any time become choked by reason of the admission or placing therein substances other than ordinary sewage matter, the owner or occupier of the premises drained by such sewer shall defray the cost of cleaning the sewer.

When two or more premises are drained by any branch sewer, the City Engineer shall determine by whom and in what proportion the cost of repairs or of removing any obstruction, shall be paid.

Sec. 21. Any sewer, soil pipe, waste pipe, ventilating pipe, water-closet, urinal, sink or other fitting, laid, used or constructed otherwise than in accordance with this by-law, or the specification approved by the Council, or which shall, in the opinion of the City Engineer, be or become bad or defective in quality, shall upon notice in writing from the City Engineer, be removed or repaired in the manner determined and within the time fixed by the City Engineer; and the City Engineer may, should he think fit after due notice, remove or repair the said defective sewer or fitting, and charge the owner or occupier of the premises with the cost incurred, which may be recovered by the Corporation in the manner provided in section 4.

Sec. 22. No arrangements shall be made for supplying water-closets except by self-closing cocks, and no arrangements shall be made for cleaning water-closets or privy vaults by waste pipe from wash basins or sinks, or by any other means of evasion; but they shall be fitted up with the fixtures and appurtenances belonging to them respectively.

Sec. 23. All openings for ventilation made in accordance with the specification adopted by the Council shall at all times be kept open and perfectly free from obstruction. Every occupier shall see that all openings to drains upon his premises, whether for ventilation or otherwise, and all traps and other fittings, are at all times in good order, clean and free from obstruction.

Sec. 24. The City Engineer, or other person acting under his authority, may, upon giving due notice, enter, at all reasonable hours, into any house or premises connected with the sewers in order to examine whether the sewers and fittings in such house or premises are in proper order. Any person refusing such admission, or to any way hindering such officer in the execution of his duty, shall be liable to the penalty hereinafter mentioned.

Sec. 25. No person shall remove the cover of any manhole, ventilator or flush-tank, unless duly authorised by the City Engineer, or shall deposit rubbish or garbage of any description in any sewer, man-hole, gully-trap, ventilator or flush-tank.

Sec. 26. Whenever the words "City Engineer" occur in this by-law or in the said specification, they shall be taken to mean the person holding the office of City Engineer for the time being, or such other person as may be duly authorized to act in his behalf.

Sec. 27. Any person violating any of the provisions of this by-law shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars.

Sec. 28. This by-law may be known as the "Sewer Connection Regulating By-Law, 1893."

Passed the Municipal Council the 16th day of October, 1893.

The Mikado's Birthday.

New York, Nov. 4.—To-day is the 41st anniversary of the birth of the Mikado Mutshuhito, the ruler of Japan, and according to recent mail advices from Tokio, which was the Emperor's birthplace, the event will be celebrated with great rejoicing throughout the country. The festivities began last night, and will continue until the end of the week, taking the form of processions, banquets and picnics. The Mikado received hundreds of congratulatory addresses and valuable presents without number. He will signalize his birthday by extending clemency to a large number of criminals, many of whom are under sentence of death for various crimes.

Ready for the Romans.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Chief Harrigan was informed several days ago that members of the A. P. A. had formed an armed bodyguard to protect ex-priest Joseph Slattery. A force of detectives was placed on the case. They last night arrested Wm. Wintermute during the lecture at Capital Hall. He carried a pistol and presented a permit, but was nevertheless locked up.

Lost a Month's Pay.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Congressman Crain, of Texas, lost his month's salary, $417, in going from the capitol to his hotel after the adjournment of the house yesterday. He placed the money in his trouser's pocket, and on reaching his rooms found it had disappeared.

The Daily Times.

A CURIOUS SPECTACLE.

A Conservative contemporary says: "In view of the fact that our neighbors in the United States are in a condition of bankruptcy and starvation, while this country is undoubtedly prosperous, it seems to us that it is hardly worth while to disturb the 'unwise fiscal laws' which permit Canada to be prosperous. A change might be for the worse." If the premises are correct the conclusion is undoubtedly correct also. The Conservative ministers and newspapers insist that the premises are correct, therefore it is passing strange to find the ministers patrolling the country to find guildance in making a change that "may be for the worse." Still stranger does it appear that while they are pursuing this errand they should be so constantly preaching the doctrine of contentment with things as they are. The two ministers, though, are not quite so rampant as the two controllers, who are supposed to be gleaning opinions from the farmers. Instead of doing this they seem to be trying very hard to force the farmers into adopting their opinions. The Globe thus summarizes their curious operations as tariff inquisitors: "The controllers have been guilty of conducting a party campaign at public expense while making a pretence of inquiring into the effects of the tariff; and, in addition to that, they did not fairly conduct the arguments. Full advantage was taken of their position as chairman and debaters, and while making speeches without limit at their witnesses they confined replies to definite answers to questions. In spite of this the farmers scored many points. In Markham they exploded the pretence that the duty has been taken off coffee, and showed that while the people were still taxed no revenue was collected. In Markdale they showed that the duty on farm wagons was higher than on buggies, and far higher than on carriages, and, although the controllers dodged and evaded, their friends were forced to admit the corner. At St. Catharines the witnesses proved that the duty increased the price of coal oil, binder twine, farm implements and many articles of daily consumption. These victories in an unfair contest and against professional debaters show that the objectors to restriction have unquestionably a strong case." How much real tariff reform is to be expected from an enquiry conducted in this fashion?

INDEPENDENT OPINIONS.

Speaking of the treatment of Editor Ellis the Montreal Star says: "Throughout this affair, the government press has been standing in a smug row of superconscious goodness, like the star class of a "good boys'" school. Their hair is sleekly patted down and their well-soaped faces shine over their clean collars. "We are good boys" they cry in goody-goody falsetto. 'We never sass judges. We never do what we are told not to do. We ever do anything to annoy anybody.' We think all bad boys should be severely punished. We just like to stand in a row and look good.' In this case they have had the 'letspat-me-on-the-head' row to themselves. The independent journals of the country have unanimously condemned the harsh treatment accorded Mr. Ellis after a pursuit that has not slackened for six years. It may be that the dignity of the bench of New Brunswick required this drastic vindication. Of that question, we are in no position to judge. We can say, however, that the bench of Quebec is in no such sore strait. It is becoming plain, however, that the honored editor of the St. John Globe will gain rather than lose by his unpleasant experience. And, on the whole, the press would stand to win by the occurrence if it had not been for the abject and wholly unnecessary sycophantic attitude of the ministerial organs." The Toronto Star, another independent paper, speaks as follows: "Mr. Ellis is suffering thirty days imprisonment for 'contempt of court,' he having in his capacity of a public journalist denounced—as we think quite justifiably—the conduct of one of the New Brunswick judges, some six years ago. So long as this medieval style of dealing with their critics is recognized as a prerogative of the New Brunswick bench, people within their jurisdiction will have to be careful hereafter to conceal their contempt for such courts, but that sentiment will exist very vigorously in every just and generous heart. The Star cannot imagine that anybody whose good opinion is worth having can think any the less of Mr. Ellis than before; but, on the other hand, it is quite certain that by this scandalous outrage an enduring disgrace has been brought upon the judiciary of New Brunswick. We heartily endorse the suggestion that a public subscription be raised to pay the $3000 fine, by way of testifying the sympathy of all right-minded people with the victim of this unjust and vindictive judgment." These quotations show what independent opinion on the case is. Certain Tory papers have sought to defend the outrage on the ground that Judge Tuck was right in granting an injunction to prevent a recount of the votes in Queen's and that the comments of the St. John Globe was libellous. Both these points are in dispute, but if that were not the case the treatment of Mr. Ellis would still be indefensible. This is not an opinion from the "Grits" alone; some of the best English judges have held that it is doubtful whether judges really have such power of punishment as these arbitrary New Brunswick men have claimed, and that the power should not be exercised even if they have it. There is no good reason why judges should be able to punish attacks upon themselves while ordinary men have to depend on the ordinary process of law for vindication.

"There can be but one conclusion," says the Comox News, "to which Messrs. Foster and Angers will arrive, namely, that the people here desire freer trade relations with the United States and other nations. We are hemmed in here between a high tariff wall on the south, and an equally high freight tariff on the east. Our trade relations to the west are indeed improving, but there are tariff restrictions there. We don't want free trade, but we do require freer trade than we possess now, and if the Conservative party will but rise to the height of its great opportunity, it will move as rapidly as possible in the direction of tariff reform, and in doing that it will of course, demand proper concessions from the United States and the Australian colonies."

The Comox News agrees with the government, that too much attention should not to be given to the census of 1891. It says: "Some account should be given to the rapid growth of some places since that time. As an illustration, Union Mines has now an undoubted population, all told, of 1000 inhabitants, and is entitled to a representative of her own. For this purpose she should be set off in an electoral district, embracing the Union wharf, Dunsmuir and Durham townsites, and contiguous territory, while the balance of the old Comox electoral district extending north to and including the Queen Charlotte Islands should certainly be another. Valdes Island should be included in this district."

General Manager Clouston, of the Bank of Montreal, says that the chief trouble with Canada is "that we have been spending too much money; too many subsidies to railways; too many expensive works and too much good money wasted." This sound rather odd, when so many people say there is nothing the matter with Canada.

VERNON AND VICINITY.

The Week's News From the Towns and Ranches of Okanagan.

(Vernon News.)

Eneas McDougall, the well known guide, returned last week from a trip to the Cherry creek country, where he procured several fine specimens of caribou heads.

Pierre Dennis shot a large grizzly on Anarchist mountain a few days ago.

In Camp McKinney the expected construction of the Kettle river wagon road has caused renewed confidence, and a number of abandoned claims have been re-located and development work renewed.

The "Blind Kid" who was sent down last spring for six months for the part which he took in stealing provisions from the pantry of the Victoria Hotel and carrying them down to a cabin at the mouth of Long Lake creek, as well as other offences, is again a free man, and it is said that he has sent back word that that there are two men in Vernon that he intends to kill before he balances up his account with justice in this vicnity. Who the particular men are that are to be carved up in the particular fashion approved of by the blind kid is not known.

F. Walker has left the ranch and is again domiciled at the Victoria Hotel. In all probability he will spend the winter in Victoria or Southern California.

The Aberdeen now leaves Penticton for Vernon at 9 o'clock instead of 12. She is to be fitted this winter with an ice prow in case the lake freezes over, and by this means it is expected that navigation will be kept open all winter.

On Boundary creek in the Providence claim, ore is being packed out to the Colville smelter, some 75 miles, at a good profit, and this and a number of other rich strikes along the Kettle river point to the location of a smelter in that district ere long.

It is understood that workmen are now busy on the Kettle river wagon road.

Fairfax Haynes, who broke away from custody last July, surrendered himself last week to Mr. Sidley, J. P. He was to be tried at Osoyoos in a day or two.

It is reported the townsite people of Nakusp are negotiating with a San Francisco concern to establish a reduction works there. They are giving them 15 lots.

The development work on the Brown Bear and Wide West claims only proves the rock richer in free gold as depth is obtained, and there is no longer any doubt but that Fairview is destined to be one of the greatest gold camps of the interior. The natural townsite for this camp is at the government bridge, on the Haynes estate, where ample power can be obtained for reduction works, etc., and it is rumored that this will soon be opened for sale.

T. W. Fletcher, of Armstrong, was in town on Saturday. He expects to have the hotel rebuilt and open for business in December. It will be larger than the old one. Mr. Fletcher certainly deserves credit for the pluck displayed by him, for such a loss as he met with in the destruction of the old building was sufficient to discourage the most enterprising.

The placer workers at the crossing of Rock creek are now down 60 feet. They have run 40 feet under the creek, and are now going to rise to bed rock where they hope to find gold and lots of it.

A meeting of the intending subscribers to the proposed race track is called for this evening. The company has been formed and will be incorporated under the Companies' Act. The capital stock is $5000 divided into 500 shares of $10 each.

It is currently and creditably reported that Armstrong is shortly to have a flour mill. R. Wood is likely to turn his visit to England to some good account as he is interesting moneyed men in the scheme and it is expected that next spring will see the scheme on a fair way to completion.

Vernon is to have a skating rink this winter, down near the Columbia Milling Company's warehouse. S. T. Elliott is getting material on the ground for the building, which will be ready as soon as the frost is ready to begin its work.

Although the placer excitement at Ah She creek has subsided, two others were budding into bloom as I left Kettle river, with prospects of 20 cents to the pan. The construction of a railway through Kettle river is looked forward to by the settlers in the near future, and such an event will certainly mean the rapid development of one of the richest sections of the province.

THE MONEY SITUATION.

Relief Promised by the Repeal of the Sherman Bill.

Henry Clews says in his latest circular:

At last, the silver incubus has been lifted from the markets. The opposition have split upon methods of co-operation for obstruction, and that has given them a good excuse for the surrender which they all now acknowledge to be inevitable. Voting will therefore be undertaken immediately, and with a certainty of a good majority for a complete and permanent suspension of treasury purchases of silver.

This is a national relief the benefits of which it is impossible to over-estimate. The country is now placed in a position for protecting itself from the unknown future consequences of the depreciation and demonetization of silver. The nation is free to provide for itself a currency system based upon the common money of the world, adapted to its peculiar wants and elastic and self-regulative in its movements. A doubt has been removed,—we may hope forever,—from our credit with the large holders of our investments in foreign countries. A solid assurance is now given to the world that American obligations will be paid in gold or its equivalent; and this means that, whenever in the process of our marvellous national development it may be advantageous to borrow European capital, there will be no difficulty in procuring it. We henceforth rank among the nations not only first as to productive resources, but also equal with the foremost as to soundness and stability of monetary arrangements. Ever since the Bland-Allison law was enacted, there has been, among European authorities and the great bankers who control the currents of investment, a steadily growing misgiving as to what might be the outcome of our ever-increasing commitments to silver money. That doubt is fially settled; and it is impossible to assign a limit to the consequent elevation of the status of our securities at the European centres. The resumption of gold payments so benefited our foreign credit that within the next two succeeding years, we made a net import of $167,000,000 of gold. The country has now emphatically declared that its ability to maintain payments in gold shall never be impaired by an undue admixture of silver; and it remains to be seen how far this momentous assurance will conduce to a new influx of the yellow metal. Already, in anticipation of the action of the Senate, foreign exchange has reached the point at which the importation of gold is possible and London is making shipments for New York.

As yet, there is not time to show what effects upon general business are likely to follow this great restoration of confidence. The late depression has, of course, extinguished some concerns and crippled others; but the proportion of this injured class to those who remain strong and retain their former resources is very trifling; and it always strengthens a situation to have its weaker elements weeded out. Some remnant of caution must remain, but there is no reason why it should have any important retarding effect upon either industry, trade or finance. Two all-important facts are to be kept in view—first the material interest of the country are in a sound and conservative condition, entirely exempt from either speculation or inflation of values; and, next, credit is sufficiently restored to enable all legitimate borrowers to get what funds they may need, while capital is beginning to seek employment at low rates. A further important fact is that stocks of merchandise have been reduced to an exceptionally low condition, so that there must soon be a movement for replenishing them. Under these circumstances, it seems almost inevitable that the enactment of the repeal bill will be followed by a general revival of business. Indeed, we notice already the extension of credit accommodation to a class of mercantile borrowers who have been long excluded from the market, and the banks are becoming as anxious to lend and discount as they have been disinclined to those operations.

Wall street has promptly puts its estimate upon the new conditions by an advance of 5 to 6 points in the price of stocks. Nor is this a purely speculative rise. Those who sold out their securities during the panic are now buying them back again, and these investment transactions sustain the rise against any reaction arising from realizings from speculative holders. The conviction appears to be general that, as prices have not yet recovered the level at which the panic struck them, a still further rise may be expected. This view is strengthened by the consideration that an improvement in general trade will increase the earnings of the railroads, the business of which has been showing a steady gain during the past month.

We regard this hopeful view of the market as warranted by the new condition of affairs, and confidently expect a still higher range of prices for the good active properties.

Victoria Man's Invention.

A. Gibson, an employee of the city electric light works, has perfected a mast arm for electric lights which is a wonderful improvement over anything else now in use. It is simplicity itself in construction and may be swung down so that the light can be trimmed on the ground. The arm swings on a pivot and is lowered by the use of a halyard, so time is saved where the trimmer has now to climb the pole or mast. The whole arm is so placed that it may be swung around to describe more than half a circle, and thus any obstruction in the street may be avoided when it is lowed. Mr. Gibson has a working model at the corner of Pandora avenue and Broad street and exhibited its workings to a Times man this afternoon. He has applied for a patent. He calls his invention the Victoria mast arm, and he intends to manufacture them here.

If That Lady

Will call again at the Lansdowne House on Yates street she can see the very shape asked for as Partridge had a new lot of felt hats in by to-day's express.

CANADIAN DISPATCHES.

The News of Eastern Canada in Short Paragraphs.

Rev. J. M. Wellwood, of Minnedosa, Man., a well-known Methodist minister, is dead.

A dispatch from Fredericton, N.B., says: To-day Sheriff Sterling received a communication from the clerk of the crown in chancery inquiring if the ballot boxes used at the last Dominion election are still the property of the Dominion government. Henry B. Mitchell, who was returning officer in Sunbury county in the last Dominion election, has received a similar inquiry regarding ballot boxes in that county. Many people people point to these inquiries as signs of an approaching election.

J. J. Dawson, ex-M.P. for Algoma, states that the repeal of the Sherman bill will do much to restore activity in the silver industry in Ontario by establishing a real and definite price for silver instead of the fictitious price placed upon it by the Sherman bill. Confidence would be restored, and the mines of northern Ontario would have ample capital to develop them.

A fierce attack upon the memory of Admiral Nelson has been made by Vidal, the well-known French-Canadian journalist, in a Montreal paper. He advocates that the Nelson monument in Jacques Cartier square be removed and that one in honor of the discoverer of Canada take its place.

The dry goods section of the Toronto board of trade discussed the advisability of an improved bankruptcy law for the Dominion, and a deputation was appointed to make representations to the council of the board asking it to lay before the government the advisability of a uniform bankruptcy law.

Luckey, the Leeds county murderer, is to be hanged on Thursday, December 14.

During a violent thunder storm on Thursday night lightning struck the barns of John Jackson, who owns a farm near Abington, where a large number of World's Fair prize cattle and sheep were housed. The barn and its contents were destroyed. Loss over $700.

Two hundred tons of Irish earth have just been landed in Canada, having been imported by P. Rafferty, who intends to convert it into a garden at his residence at Hochelaga.

Thomas Harkness, of Alton, aged 43, was found dead on the road with his throat cut. Deceased recently returned from Manitoba. Lying near the body was an open jack-knife besmeared with blood and an empty laudanum bottle, with the label of a Bradon, Man., druggist. The coroner was summoned, and after examination declared the case to be one of suicide and that an inquest was unnecessary.

Sir John Thompson in an interview said the government proposed to call parliament together as early as possible. The government, he said, was alive to the necessity of tariff reform, and at the proper time would show the people that it had their interests at heart.

SOCIETIES.

Acme lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., conferred the third degree on a brother last Monday evening, besides doing other work. The lodge will hold its second anniversary entertainment on Monday evening, November 13th. Admission will be by invitation, and tickets may be obtained from Brothers Macmillan, Sherer, O'Neil, Edwards and Handley. Elaborate preparations are being made for this entertainment and some novel features will be introduced. All members are requested to be at the meeting next Monday evening, as a fraternal visit from Dominion lodge is expected.

A. O. F.

Judging from the number of tickets being disposed of for the social and dance to be given by the B. C. Circle, Companions of the Forest, A. O. F., on Nov. 14th, it will be a success. Those wishing to attend should procure their tickets at once, as only a limited number are to be sold. The young ladies to take part in the "hoop drill" are practising nightly and are determined to present it in a first-class manner. Dancing will commence immediately after the entertainment, music being furnished by Richardson's orchestra. Tickets may be procured from any of the committee.

Court Vancouver meets Monday night and all members are requested to be present, as there are several candidates to be initiated.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Victoria lodge No. 17 held its regular meeting last Thursday, at which a large number of members were present from Far West and Sunset lodges. The ranks of page and esquire were conferred on several candidates. Eighteen applicants were elected members of the order, and sixteen propositions were received.

Far West lodge, No. 1, at the last meeting, conferred the rank of esquire on five candidates and the rank of knight on four esquires of Victoria lodge.

The charter roll of Victoria lodge has closed with two hundred names. The new lodge will be the largest in the province.

Victoria division, No. 2, uniform rank, met on Wednesday evening and transacted routine business.

Prelate W. Workman and Inner Guard H. B. Rendell will be installed at the next meeting of Far West lodge.

The nomination of officers will take place at the regular meeting of Far est lodge on the 24th inst.

A. Feschner, of Philipsburg lodge, No. 20, Montana, is ill at the Jubilee hospital.

Y. M. I.

Seghers council No. 35 held an adjourned meeting last Friday evening. One candidate was initiated and two applications were read. It is the intention of the council to hold an "at home" shortly. The next regular meeting will be held on Monday evening.

SHORT LOCALS.

Gleanings of City and Provincial News in a Condensed Form.

—Pocket and table cutlery at Fox's, 78 Government street.

—Tuesday next a recruit class will be opened for the garrison artillery.

—Second-hand marble mantels, doors, windows, etc. Shore's hardware.

—Letts diaries for 1894. J. Johnson & Co., books and stationery, Government street. tf

—A. R. Pennock, holder of No. 75, drew the appropriation at the Victoria Building society draw last night.

—Razors and shaving materials of best Sheffield make at Fox's, 78 Government street. Satisfaction guaranteed.

—The members of the "Skipped by the Light of the Moon" company were the guests of the Victoria and the New England.

—S. H. Daria, the International Supreme Lecturer of the I. O. G. T., will speak at the Methodist church, James Bay, this evening.

—The new Japanese drapery crepes and leather paper hangings just opened at Weiler Bros.' are very effective and the prices low for such elegant goods.

—Mr. Tate continued his historical lecture before the Sir William Wallace society at their regular meeting last night. E. B. Paul gave an address on Barbour, the Scottish poet.

—Eighteen years ago to-day the mail steamship Pacific was wrecked off the coast of Washington, several hours after leaving Victoria, and with the exception of two, all the passengers were drowned.

—It is arranged that Mr. Faul, principal of the High School, will deliver an address on Japan in the First Presbyterian school room on Monday evening, the 6th inst., at 8 o'clock, on behalf of the Young People's Literary Association.

—The funeral of William J. Mashs took place yesterday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Jones at the church and grave. The pall bearers were Lawrence Goodacre, Thomas Shotbolt, Aldermen Baker and Robinson, William Snider and Mr. Scott.

—R. W. Venning, of the marine and fisheries department, who has been busy gathering sealing information since his return from Russia on the Empress of Japan, will leave for Ottawa probably to-night. Since his arrival here he has succeeded in getting together valuable information. In this he has been greatly assisted by Collector Milne and those interested in the sealing industry.

—Collector Milne will forward to the British government this evening a complete statement of the sealing industry this year in the whole North Pacific ocean, with the catch of the whole Pacific coast, as well as that of the Japanese and Russian coasts and the rookeries on either side. The statement will be quite voluminous, is clear and concise, and represents several weeks of hard and painstaking work.

—A special from Blaine of Thursday says: The south-bound mail train was delayed at this point to-day on account of the refusal of a mail agent to admit a customs officer to inspect the car after it had crossed the line. Both officers say they are obeying orders. The customs officer on being refused admission ordered the conductor to side track the mail car. The conductor wired the superintendent at Seattle for instructions, and at his request the customs officer permitted the train to go forward for this once.

—The St. Andrew's and Caledonian society elected officers last night:—Robert Irving, president; John Coltart, first vice-president; James Colquhoun, second vice-president; E. C. Smith, secretary; J. R. McKenzie, assistant secretary; J. R. Carmichael, treasurer; John Robertson, chaplain. Captain John Irving, R. P. Rithet, George Bishop, A. Tolmie, John Earsman, H. D. Helmcken and George Walker are the board of directors; George Webb, warden and James Deans, bard. Two initiations. The annual banquet will take place on November 30th.

—The Sir William Wallace Society continues to keep up interesting programmes, which draw a large attendance to the meetings every week. Last evening Messrs. Tate and Paul gave short addresses—Mr. Tate a continuation of remarks on early Scottish history; Mr. Paul on the earliest of Scottish poets, Barbour, who, he said, was at least equal to Chaucer. A selection from the play of Rob Roy, which is to be given at the Hallowe'en concert on the 9th inst., was rehearsed, and no doubt by the other rehearsals which will take place before the concert, the piece will be something worth seeing and hearing.

—The Roman Catholic mission at Esquimalt begins Sunday morning. Father Lindner, C. S. S. R., will conduct the mission.

—James Lenny, a suspicious character, could not give a satisfactory account of himself last night and was locked up. He was liberated this morning.

—T. W. Reamer, teacher of the banjo and guitar, has been induced to remain in Victoria, a class having been organized for him. He had intended to leave the city.

—David Little, an inmate of the old men's home, died this morning. He was an engineer, a native of Dumfriesshire, Scotland, aged 65. The funeral will take place from the home at 2 o'clock to-morrow.

—Dr. A. E. Verrinder, dentist, was fined $25 and costs in the police court for assaulting a boy, Willie Glover. Dr. Verrinder pleaded guilty to the assault and said he gave the boy a good thrashing for upsetting a child of his from a velocipede.

—A. Ferguson, barrister, of Ottawa, gives notice of application to parliament for the incorporation of a company to construct a canal for navigation from a point on Burrard Inlet, near Port Moody, thence easterly to a point on Pitt river, in township 40 or township 9.

—It is proposed to properly define the street line on Herald street between Douglas and Blanchard streets according to the survey of Jas. A. Mahood and Richard C. Cridge, and with this end in view Ald. Bragg has posted a notice on the bulletin board of the city hall to empower City Assessor Northcote to negotiate with property holders for the sale of certain portions of their lands which will be required.

—Michael Boyle caused a lively time on Cadboro Bay road last night. He was found lying in the road at the junction of the Oak Bay road. His clothing was torn and he had marks on his face. It was at first thought that he had been waylaid and robbed, but a strong smell of whiskey convinced to the contrary. A short distance from him was found a pocketbook containing $150. Messrs. Pearson and Borde took him into town and he was handed over to the police and fined $5 and costs in the police court this morning.

—If it is true that a good laugh will do one more good than a dose of medicine the doctors and druggists might as well put up their shutters if they rely for their practice on those who attended the Victoria theatre last evening. The comedians were as original and funny as any that have been seen in Victoria for some time. They were frequently recalled, and each time were equal to the emergency, always having something witty ready to bring down the house. The singing and dancing were also good. All the parts were well sustained.

—The officials of the Pacific Coast Steamship company announce that the steamer Walla Walla, which has been undergoing repairs, has been thoroughly overhauled, and will resume her trips on the 6th inst., in command of Captain James Carroll. Since the Walla Walla has been laid up thousands of dollars have been expended on her, and the improvements made are noticeable. Passengers will have much cosier quarters than formerly. On the 11th inst. the steamer Umatilla will be taken off the run to Victoria, and will undergo extensive repairs. The steamer Queen, in command of Captain Wallace, will sail in place of the Umatilla.

—Annie Fitzmaurice was taken from the Refuge Home last night to the police office. She was raving, and the matron of the institution could not quiet her. She had been in the Refuge Home for two years, having been sent there from a restaurant on Yates street, where she was employed. She used to scream and run out on the street, and the proprietors of the restaurant could not keep her. She is a morphine fiend and can take 60 grains of morphine at one dose. The only effect this excessive amount has upon her is to put her to sleep. Considerably less than 60 grains of morphine will put to eternal rest two ordinary men not used to the drug. Dr. Fraser attended the woman and gave her a four-grain dose of morphine. She comes from Seattle and will probably be taken back to the Sound to-night.

—W. H. Bainbridge arrived from Alberni last evening. He made a most thorough prospect of the auriferous district at and in the vicinity of China and Hiwatches creeks and is satisfied that there is splendid water power close at hand. Messrs. Etheridge and Hennesay, who have been doing the assessment work in the claims located, have nearly finished. They will be out by the end of the week. Mr. H. S. Going, who returned with Mr. Bainbridge, has been surveying a number of claims on China creek, but has had to quit work owing to wintry weather. In speaking of the effect of the passing of the repeal bill on silver mining, Mr. Bainbridge said last evening, that it would of course curtail the profits from the Thunder Hill mine, but work would be continued. The ore could be worked so cheaply and there was such an abundance of it in sight they could still make a good profit despite the depreciation in silver.

ENTIRE SEAL CATCH.

More Than Half of the Sealskins Taken in the Pacific Delivered Here.

U. S. Consul Myers has received from the collectors of customs at Seattle and San Francisco the number of sealskins taken at those ports during the past season. The number of skins entered there beings the grand total of skins taken in the Pacific ocean and Behring sea up to 120,241. According to the report from San Francisco the twenty-two schooners hailing from that port took only 2,748 skins, the largest catch of any one schooner being less than 300. The Seattle schooners, fewer in number, brought in 6,874 skins.

The catch was divided as follows:

Delivered at Victoria	70,001
Delivered at Seattle	6,874
Delivered at San Francisco:
From 22 schooners	2,748
From Pribyloff Islands	7,425
From Petropaulovski	33,193
Grand total	120,241

The Savary Island Murder.

Superintendent of Provincial Police Hussey has telegraphed to Nanaimo and Comox for information regarding the Savary Island murder. He received replies stating that his telegrams were the first intimation they had. Constable Anderson of Comox is not on the trail of the murderer as reported. Anderson arrived in Victoria at noon to-day from Nanaimo, and the first he had heard of the affair was here. A telegram has been sent to Magistrate Manson of Comox, now in Vancouver, for full particulars of the murder. When a proper description has been secured the police will at once start on the chase. The murderer already has over a week's start, that is presuming the murder was committed last Friday week as reported.

The fact that the murder was known to Magistrate Manson last Monday and was never reported to the police, has caused considerable comment among the local police. Savary island, where the murder was committed, was only thirty miles from Comox, and it is thought that an Indian or some other messenger might have been despatched to Comox, where the telegraph could have been used. This would have brought the murder to the knowledge of the police on Tuesday morning at the latest, and a squad of police could now have been on the trail of the murderer. Why Magistrate Manson took the bodies of the murdered men to Vancouver is also not understood here. It is thought he might have communicated with the coroner in Nanaimo, or, if he removed the bodies, to have taken them to Nanaimo. But it is also said there may have been a good reason not yet explained. It is probable a reward of $500 will be offered by the authorities for the apprehension of the murderer. A gentleman from Comox said that Lynn, the supposed murderer, bears a bad character among the residents of the island. Lynn is not a courageous man like Kennedy, and there is every probability that he will be run down.

A gentleman who returned from Comox on the Joan and reached the city via Nanaimo at noon to-day says there is considerable excitement up north over the Savary Island murders. The people generally suspect Lynn, and are of the opinion that if he is the guilty party he can easily be taken. While it is thought there was a large sum in Green's possession it could hardly have been over $2,000. The weapons placed in the hands of the murdered men had not been discharged for a long period. Another theory advanced is that the Indians murdered the man.

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—The report of the murder published this morning is correct, except that Lynn's boat, not Green's is missing, and the amount stolen is unknown. An inquest was held by Coroner Pittendrigh this morning. Manson gave evidence which is simply a repetition of what is known, except that Lynn had seen Green pay a whiskey bill at Mr. Lynn's on Thursday one of a big roll of bills. Dr. Thomas made a post mortem examination this morning and found a bullet in Green's body. The bullet in Taylor's body cannot be found. Both bullets entered about the same spot in both men, near the heart. Thomas gave evidence before the coroner this afternoon. Governor Moresby has the matter in hand. Besides Green and Thomas, Lynn was the only settler on the island.

An Old Miner Dead.

News has been received announcing the death in Montreal of James Carson, aged 50, a former British Columbia miner and hotel keeper. He worked in almost every mining camp in the province and became very popular among the miners. He crossed the continent from his home in Montreal in 1862 when the news of the gold discoveries in Cariboo electrified the young men of the east. From the time of his arrival in the province until he returned to his home in Montreal seven years ago, Jim Carson remained in the mining camps, following and leading miners to new gold fields. He worked in Cariboo and Peace river, and afterwards settled in Cassiar, where with Mr. Clearihue he opened a hotel. Several months ago he visited his old mining friends in Victoria, expecting to renew his health, which had failed. He was not benefited, however, and returned to Montreal in a very weak condition.

What the Traveller Sees Along the Western Coasts.

THE PRECIOUSNESS OF THE SOIL

Fishing Industry of Bergen—Picturesque Appearance of the Old Town—Relics of the Hanse Men—Curious Habits of the Fisher People.

(From our own Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 12, 1893.—If one has sailed up and down the magnificent Norwegian coast, it is easy to believe the statement that one-tenth of the entire population of Norway are fishermen. Twenty million cod alone are annually taken. The value of fish each year exported from Norway is nearly $12,000,000. From Bergen to Vadso, one is scarcely ever out of sight of fishermen's huts, fisher fleets, fishing stations, and bleak and dreary towns where fish and fishing are the exclusive reason for the presence of man.

Agriculture along the entire coast and among the coast islands is carried on in patches so tiny as to astonish the traveller at their insignificance. Little strips a few rods in length and a few feet in breadth are regarded by those patient folk as prized possessions, and what they are made to produce is amazing. To such straits are the coast and islet fisher folk sometimes put for soil that it is often transferred from the mainland in boats bit by bit, to fill some crevice, or to be walled in and cultivated against the floods and tempests which often wash it ruthlessly into the sea. I have seen these little patches often cared for with vastly more expense and labor than the owner's rude habitation; it is not infrequent to discover them half way up the broken side of a beetling crag; I know of many that can only be reached by lowering the owner to his "farm" by means of a windlass; and it is no uncommon thing to see them walled in at the edges, forming a portion of a sloping roof of stone huts abutting plains of mighty jagged rocks behind. These bits of green seem to take an added intensity of contrast for their sterile and desolate surroundings, and emphasize the only market gardening of the coast—the tremendous harvest of the sea.

In all the vast region where cod are taken the curious apparent scene is constantly presented at the fishing stations your steamer will call at or pass, of some vast clothes-washing industry. The absurd notion possesses you that the laundry for all Europe has been found; for at a little distance the white drying cod, hanging over poles or covering acres of flat rock, seem like countless and immeasurable collections of lingerie bleaching in the nightless days of these Arctic regions. This Norwegian codfish has the two names of "stokfish," stockfish or stickfish, and "klipfisk" or fish. The former derives its name from being dried in pairs hanging from a long stok or pole; and the latter are "klipfisk" from being cured where poles are not available, on the flat surface of the klippe, the everlasting rock. From these they are sent to the barn-like structures, around which cluster the dreary habitations of the coast and islets, which are to the fishing industry what the "storhaus" is to the Norse farmer; and from these they are taken by coasting craft called "jagts" to the great waterside storehouses of Bergen, from which they find their way to their final markets in various Mediterranean ports.

So you will never escape the sight, taste and smell of fish in Norway. Every animate object along the coast from human to seagull is seeking for fish. Every coast city, town or huddle of houses is engaged in catching, curing storing or selling fish, and would fall in ruin in a decade if fish disappeared from the searoads and fiords. The most picturesque sights in these waters are the fleets of fishermen's crafts going or coming between the home ports and outlying stations and the numberless jagts with their high-peaked prows and immense sails creeping in and out of the blue bays and shadowy fiords or massing in bewildering confusion about the quays of Bergen and Throndhjem.

At your hotel every manner of fish is served in extraordinary variety and tremendous quantity. If you are entertained at the house of a friend, the never failing familiar dish is thrust before you. The border further countrywards assaults your satiety with pickled fish. If you take potluck with the peasant, there it is again ground into powder and mingled with his porridge. Up among the mountain saetes the women who care for the herds and flocks will force it upon you as a hospitable delicacy. At the tourist stations along the great stone roads of Norway it bobs up to haunt you, dried, pickled and in caviare. And penetrating the remotest country districts, among the highland lakes and streams, you will starve if you do not at once fall upon fresh fish, served while it is still almost quivering with its finny, bloodless life. I have known travellers who passionately protested against the universality of Great Britain's "ham and eggs" grow voiceless in despair from the omnipresence and immutability of fish in Norway.

A Turneresque picture indeed is that gradually unfolding from your steamer's deck when morning breaks through the mists and begins to light up the city of Bergen. A jumble of spars, of huge flapping sails, and then the dim outlines of all manner of shipping, but chiefly the odd-looking lines of the old dragon-ships of the Vikings, the latter of course laden with endless stores of fish, are first to come in view. Then ghostly rows of half defined outlines of what suggest Brobdignagian monks, squatting at the waterside with cowled and bowed heads as in meditation or prayer. These prove to be the vast white-fronted ancient storehouses of Bergen. What seemed a cowl at the peak of each is only a huge rippebom or rude crane, with its cumberous hood-like cover, used when the Nord-far-Stoevne, or northern seafarers' arrival, crowds the bay with fishing craft, in unloading the unsavory freight. Here is the ancient Hanseatic quarter. Brave are the tales of trade these odd old storehouse shells might tell. Strange scenes were once here in the olden council-rooms. Strange romances cling to the ways and days of these sturdy old League merchants. And strange and grewsome were the lives of their slavish clerks who passed their days in these mighty caverns of dead fish, and by the jealousy of different nations might ever love and never wed. Through the misty rose, like the rust of the ripened peach, the quaint old city seems at last to float out of its ghostliness into clearer view. Behind the masts and the hooded storehouses rises the grim cathedral roof and dome. Then bits of green, where the open spaces are, wonderously green in these brief and humid summer days, checker the uplands of roof, at first as brilliant in purple and red as a ragged heather-clad Scottish mountain side, for all these roofs are flaming as peonies in ruddy, red tiles. Angle, projection, quaint corner, here and there a pagoda-like house end, everywhere peaked roof and sharp, pointed gable, in successive jagged ends and bits of color and contrast of color, rise not tier on tier, but most picturesque jumble on mass, and mass upon jumble, defined at last by the loveliest of valley landscapes, delicate in whites of villas and greens of parks, gardens, farms and forests, as a Tuscan dreamland reach of vineyard vale; and then, all about, the dark mountain edges, serrated, dark and grim, which shut in every scene eyes may behold in Norway as if only nothingness and immensity lay forbidding and measureless beyond.

One is in love with old Bergen town before foot is set upon its huge, hard quays. The feeling instantly possesses you that you are in a city and among a folk that have not let all manner of modern notions run away with their comfortable olden possessions and ways. There is a sense of amplitude and almost benignity about these wide old structures of the sort one feels when coming unexpectedly into a house with capacious and cheery fireplaces still doing their hospitable duty; and the people themselves impress you, even before dealing with or knowing them, with a personal consciousness of simple integrity and measured-pace content that irresistibly puts sunshine and benignity into your own heart, and leads you on to each successive experience with a cheeriness and good nature mutually reciprocal with yourself and every soul you meet. In all other wanderings my own experience has been that I never came to a strange people or city without indefinable anxiety, faint presages of unforseen ill, and forebodings of unhappy discoveries, happenings and scenes. Not so with Norway. You may not know the language of her people; but every face that is turned to yours seems so frank and unruffled; every eye that meets your own is so steady and clear in its friendly candor; and every salutation, dealing and new experience seems so unaffected, honest and genial; that you move forward in each day's doings as in an atmosphere of beneficent hearthside calm.

You will secure a still finer view of red-roofed Bergen and the environs than from your steamer's deck by leisurely wandering up the magnificent mountain road called the Drammens-Vei—the Dram's Way because of the profits derived from liquor license revenues—rising along the grand slopes of the Floifjeld heights dominating the city on the east. It is a stone road making five great bends before reaching the brow of Floifjeld; but from this point the lights and shades playing upon the city roofs transform old Bergen into a curiously wrought entaglio of coral, set round about by the lustrous emerald of foothill and valley verdure and the gleaming sapphire of the sea.

Gradually the chief objects of the town come into prominence. The most ancient portion of the city is beneath you. There is the Tydskebrygge where are the Dutch-looking houses and all the quaint memorials of the Hanseatic League. Here the steamers lay alongside in the broad Vaage. Across the Vaage or harbor is the more modern-built city with its Strandgaade—its Regent street or Broadway—its fine shops, the warehouses, custom houses and other buildings for commerce and trade. Behind those to the south are the cathedral, public squares and gardens, the cemetery, the lepers' hospital (the only object of dread in Norway) the villas and gardens of the substantial merchants, reaches of bright bays which nearly surround the city, and the blossoming valeland, above which circle the everlasting hills. Seaward, the eye rests upon dim ribbons of blue winding away into misty fiords, interlacing the bases of grim headlands and threading between mazes of islands countless and beautiful to the far and serrated horizon rim.

Probably the most characteristic scene in Bergen is down here at the Tory, of a Sunday morning. This is the ancient fish market. It is an open space in the quay, precisely like the fish market at Newhaven, Edinburgh, at Plymouth, England, and at Galway, Ireland; but few fish are brought ashore. The stalls are the jagts or fishing boats, and there are no howling fishwives. Hundreds of peasants from the surrounding country, dressed in the peculiar costumes of their respective districts, come to the Tory to sell vegetables, cheese, butter, eggs, fowls and many rude articles of home manufacture. Mingling with these are the honest house wives and maid servants of the city.

It is a cheery, chatty, hearty crowd; all life, animation and geniality; glittering with quaint old gilt and silver ornaments; colorful from bright garters, gaudy bodices, saffron and scarlet shoulder ribbons, lustrous braids of yellow hair, snowy white caps, and head kerchiefs glinting with the silver gimps of fine old embroidery. Every woman who comes to buy fish carries a shining tin pail or scuttle, often ornamented in gaudy colors. The fishermen standing in their boats say never a word. They are the most silent and sodden salesmen you ever knew. The women do all the battering and chaffing. When a satisfactory price is reached the fish is tossed up to the buyer and the coin exchanged. And so with pleasant badinage from the quay and utter solemnity in the boats the sales go on. But think of fresh cod, salmon, mackerel and turbot selling at the Bergen Tory at but from four to six cents per pound!

The more modern streets of Bergen are spacious and wide, and all are matchlessly clean. Nearly all the houses are of wood, large, rambling, roomy; and every window is gay with boxes and pots of flowers. Not even in the tropics are more flowers to be seen in summer. All vegetation here seems to take on added beauty and luxuriance in proportion to the brevity of its yearly out-door life. Norwegian folk are fond to passionate tenderness of every leaf and bud and bloom for its seeming responsiveness to affectionate nurture and care. Every open space is filled with trees and shrubs. Every street and thoroughfare yields a vista bordered with green and ending in the blue of the sea or the bloom of flowers.

Many of the older structures are very ancient and curious. Some of the old-time villas and homes on the outskirts are interesting for their suggestion of wooden castles where there was possible occasion for defence. The timbers are something mighty in these; and the outbuildings for servants and vast storehouses on pillars of stone all tell their tale of generations of masters and folk and servitors living in a little community capable of protecting its own integrity against any manner of offensive aggression or harm.

Over in the Finnegaard on the Tydskebrygge, in the region of mountains of barrels, fences decorated by lying cod-fish and all the curious gear of the greatest fishing mart of northern Europe, still stands a single Hanseatic house. It is the only one left in Bergen where the old-time German traders lived and traded almost like a parcel of pirate monks. The strangest of rude carvings, painted in barbaric colors, bedeck the exterior. The merchants' fantastically carved and panelled office, the manager's musty bureau, the celibatic clerk's living rooms and dormitories remain just as they were once used. The latter are very unique and interesting. The beds are built in tiers like a ship's emigrants' quarters. One side of each tiny bunk is closed with hinged doors or shutters, opening to a passage way where the female servants could make the clerks' beds without entering their rooms!

You will also see in this ancient Hanseatic house a great number of strange relics of daily use in this ancient and powerful money-grabbing community. Among these are huge candlesticks, cabbage chopping machines, curious cod liver oil lamps, lanterns, metal washbowls, mammoth long-stemmed pipes, staves with bags for church collections, for these old robbers were pious as shrewd, strong boxes bound with brass and iron, arms of the Leaguers, and even one's fancy conjures Rembrandt pictures here, and you long for some romance master to see and seize and set in enduring pages the hardness, sternness and often the helpless pathos of this grim old trade-conventual life.

There is also an interesting district of Bergen lying between the Strandgaade and the harbor. One never tires of this, for narrow thoroughfares lead down to the bay, in which are strange projecting roofs, huge diamond-paned windows, shadowy colonnades, clumsy balconies and drowsy echoes of endless waterside traffic. On the Strandgaade itself there are showy shops to barter in, ancient shops into which curiously carved stairs ascend or descend, and museum-like shops where old silver, Norway carved woods, furs and all manner of keepsakes may be bought. It is here that all day long—and nearly all night long, for it is still daylight in Bergen summer time between eleven and twelve o'clock at night—move to and fro the placid peasant throngs. Among them are the peasantry from Sacterdal, from Hardanger, from Thelemark, from Stavanger and from the outlying islands. These more than all else give color and character to ancient Bergen town, and you grow impatient to follow them over the mountains to their lonely homes among the sombre fiords, beside the misty waterfalls and within the slumberous upland dals.

The New Indian Rubber Tree.

The Journal des Mines states that the trade of the island of Madagascar in 1892 received a decided stimulus by the discovery of a new India rubber tree. The principal centres where this new product is treated are Farafangana, Vangaindrano, Mandaimbondro, Fort Dauphin, Andrahomby, and Cape St. Mary.

At first the new product realized from three to six piastres per 100 pounds; aided by competition, the purchase price very soon amounted to 10 and then to 15 piastres. More than 20 piastres per 100 pounds is now paid at Fort Dauphin.

The discovery of the new India rubber tree has come very fortunately to relieve the Madagascar market, which was at such a low ebb that the Tamatave houses were closing their agencies on the north-east coast and the Americans suppressed their Majunga houses.

This discovery is of very great importance; it almost constitutes a commercial revolution. The trade formerly carried on between Farafangana and Fort Dauphin was confined to a few products which were obtained only in small quantities. Merchants were almost completely disheartened and had abandoned the market to small traders.

Several of the latter possessed but a few hundred plastres at the end of from 15 to 20 years of hard work. At the present day they are all relatively rich, and it has only taken them a year to gain their thousands of piastres. At the time of the India rubber fever new houses were immediately established at Farafangana, Yangaindra, Manamasondro, Andrahomby, Fort Dauphin, and also at Cape St. Mary, bringing goods and money.

The natives, receiving large sums in return for their products, took upon themselves to purchase imported goods to a very large extent. As long as the working of the new rubber tree lasts, this state of things will continue. The probable duration onorith wfski etaoinstaeta able duration of this working is estimated at two years only.

It is reasonable to suppose that as Ayer's Sarsaparilla has benefited others it will benefit you. No other medicine is so effective in producing a radical change in the blood and imparting renewed life and energy to the whole system, both nervous and physical.

Horse Power of a Whale.

An interesting study of the horse power of the whale has been made by the eminent anatomist, Sir William Turner, of the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, in conjunction with Mr. John Henderson, the equally eminent Glasgow shipbuilder. The size and dimensions of a great whale stranded several years ago on the shore of Longriddy furnished the necessary data for a computation of the power necessary to propel it at the rate of 12 miles an hour. The whale measured 80 feet in length, 20 feet across the flanges of the tail, and weighed 7 tons. It was calculated that 145 horse-power was necessary to attain the speed mentioned.

HAS NO POWER TO ACT

Council Can Do Nothing for the North Ward People.

ALLEGED GRIEVANCES RECITED

The Pound By-Law and the Sewer Connections Repeal By-Law Passed—Salaries of Sewer Inspectors in a Little Danger.

All the aldermen except Mr. Belyea were present at the meeting of the council called for last evening. Mayor Beaven presided. The North ward grievance was disposed of and a couple of by-laws were passed.

Immediately after the council came to order it went into committee of the whole and passed the by-law regarding the sewer connection regulating by-law, 1892.

Ald. Baker rose to a question of privilege and requested to know what had become of a letter with reference to a drain on Speed's avenue.

The mayor replied that he did not know. The clerk might be about to read the identical letter

Geo. McKie, a milkman, wrote complaining that the dirt from Cedar Hill road had filled certain drains which he had put in on his property. The street committee will look into it.

A letter was read from Yates & Jay notifying the city that in a county court suit the wages of Albert Pike, a city employe, had been garnisheed, and notifying the city that he claimed the exemption allowed by the county court act. The mayor and Aldermen Baker and Henderson deplored the suing of a city employe, and expressed the opinion that the city should only keep to the limit of the law. The matter after some talk went to the city barristers. Ald. Baker wanted the council to investigate the matter.

The finance committee presented a report recommending the appropriation of $1,011.94 out of the general revenue. It was favorably acted upon. The same committee recommended the appropriation of $648.37 out of the surface drainage by-law, principally to pay the inspectors.

Ald. Styles said he did not think the inspectors should be paid for days they did not work; for instance, when the weather was bad.

Ald. Baker made a speech defending the proposal to pay the inspectors by the month.

Ald. Henderson did not believe the inspectors should be kept on all winter.

Ald. Styles said the expenditure should be considered, despite the amount that had been voted. He said he had made the motion at the time, and intended it should be $5 a day for 25 days a month.

Ald. Harris wanted to know what they were all talking about. Had the work they were paying for not been done? That settled all talk, and the report was adopted.

The council then went into committee on the pound by-law. After considerable horse, dog, cattle and poultry talk, during which a motion to reconsider clauses 7 and 8, relating to animals found upon vacant lots, the by-law was reported. It was then passed.

The Canadian General Electric Co. wrote for electric statistics of the city for a general publication. The electric light committee will furnish the matter.

Ald. Baker again on a question of privilege wanted to know when the resolutions of the North ward ratepayers would be read.

The mayor said they would be read in due time.

The city engineer will put in a drinking font on Store street near the Telegraph hotel for the use of the Indians.

Simeon Duck transmitted to the council the resolutions adopted by the North ward ratepayers at their recent meeting.

Ald. Munn wanted to know if the speeches were attached.

Mayor Beaven said he was sorry no one was present to enlighten the meeting. The statutes provided that the wards should be divided as nearly equal as to taxation as possible.

Ald. Baker recited the committee grievance, not particularly, he said, as far as he was concerned, but for the interests of the North ward. The mayor had not treated the ward properly, and he gave the people great credit for holding the meeting and passing the resolutions. He repeated the area and populations claims, and said he could show where the ward had not got its share of expenditure. He instanced the street and sanitary work and street sprinkling. He said the resolution was proper and the speeches delivered were fair.

The mayor wanted to know the reason why Ald. Baker had not informed the meeting why the council could not act.

Ald. Baker said he and they all understood that, but it had been believed and felt that the council could take some action. The meeting, too, sustained the action of the ward's representative.

Ald. Munn said the South ward had one-third of the area, one-third of the voters and paid one-third of the revenue, and if there was any quarrel it was not with the South ward. These were the points of contention. He took Ald. Baker to task for saying the South ward had combined with the Centre ward against the North ward. He wanted to know where any better representation would come in if part of the North ward were added to the Centre or if the city were cut up into nine wards.

Ald. Harris said he was at the meeting, and could not see where there was any grievance. They were asking for something the council could not do. He wanted to see ward lines obliterated. It was narrow-minded to oppose anything outside of one's ward. He could not see what could be done with the resolution.

With a motion to adjourn, Ald. Baker said that something should be done with the resolution. He admitted having said that the South and Centre wards had combined against the North ward, and said it was true.

Ald. Bragg said the ratepayers had the right to meet and resolve on these matters. They were entitled to consideration, too.

The mayor said of course public meetings were very good, but he was disappointed that an alderman had failed to enlighten the meeting.

Ald. Harris moved, seconded by Ald. Munn, that the chairman of the meeting, Mr. Duck, be informed that the council had no power to act in the matters involved.

Ald. Baker protested, saying the council did have the power as to representation.

Ald. Munn said it did not. The mayor named committees, and the letter was addressed to the mayor and council.

Ald. Bragg reviewed the whole question, and urged consideration for the North ward.

The mayor said that previous to the meeting he had said he could not be present on the night it was held. It was not changed, and now the question was asked why he was not present.

Ald. Styles said he had always favored enlarging the Centre ward from both other wards. He denied that there was any combination for a division of the wards or anything else.

Ald. Munn positively asserted that the council could do nothing for the North ward in the matter of representation.

Ald. McKillican denied that there was any combination. He said there could be no change while values were the same.

Ald. Henderson said that his sentiments had already been expressed, but he wanted to protest against a charge of combination.

The motion was carried and the council adjourned. It was 10.30 o'clock.

Publications.

In these hard times there are many people who would like to understand more about the real conditions that surround business and how the future is likely to be affected by these conditions. Perhaps some light on these points can be got from a new book now in press, entitled, "Chances of Success; Episodes and Incidents in the Life of a Busy Man," by Erastus Wiman. A recital of the most vivid incidents in the everyday life of an observant, thoughtful man; energetically engaged in numerous pursuits; from a point of observation unequalled; in contact with the most prominent people; and imbued with a desire to discover the elements of success and the causes of failure in a country so blessed with abundance, can hardly fail to interest business men at this critical juncture. Equally will there be an interest in this book excited in the minds of young men about to commence business or choose a vocation. The complete reversal of the conditions they must encounter, as compared with those which existed when their parents stepped on the stage of life, is of immense importance, especially in view of recent events which have so convulsed the commercial world. The causes of over-production, the result of unbridled competition, the consequent tendency towards combination and the resulting exhaustion of opportunity are all points for most serious consideration, and which are fully discussed in the forthcoming book. Incidental to these graver subjects, the book will be enlivened with business episodes, frequently of a character foreign from abstruse theories, and calculated to beget an interest not usually attempted in a work of this economic character. Price $1. F. R. James, publisher, 77 Victoria street, Toronto, Ont.

Better Food For Less Money.

It is often said that an American family wastes more food than a French family requires to support life, and Prof. Atwater, in the Forum, establishes this proposition by showing what the facts are behind it in our own practice. He says: "We waste at the store, the market and in the house enough to make us wealthy if we could only save. The means that might be used for beautifying the home, educating the children, higher intellectual culture, travel and the various forms of benevolence, religious and secular, are lost. A large body of people in this country are saying practically, though not in words: 'To economize closely is beneath us. We do not want to live cheaply; we want to live well.'" Prof. Atwater says that the wage-workers use half their money to buy their food, and that the poor are the ones that practice the worst economy and suffer the most from it. One chief reason for this waste is that few people understand what the nutritive properties of different foods are, and his article is chiefly valuable because it indicates the potential energy of the nutriments in different articles of food in calories.

This means the amount of heat and energy which the food imparts to the body. Professor Atwater states the case very plainly as follows: "Round steak at 15 cents a pound contains as much protein and energy, is just as digestive and fully as nutritive, as tenderloin at 50. Mackerel has as high nutritive value as salmon and costs from an eighth to half as much. Oysters are a delicacy. If one can afford them, there is no reason for not having them, but 25 cents invested in a pint would only bring 20 grams, about an ounce of protein and 13,700 calories of energy. When a day laborer buys bread at 7 1-2 cents a pound the actually nutritive material costs him three times as much as it does his employer, who buys it in flour at $6 a barrel." Some further details are mentioned. Beef neck, which costs eight cents a pound, contains 518 grams of protein and 2795 calories of energy. Corn meal, at 2 cents a pound, contains 314 grams of protein and 20,000 calories of energy. Oatmeal at 5 cents a pound has 375 grains of protein and 9130 calories of energy. Salt pork contains 9 grams of protein and 7295 calories of energy. These figures, which show what potency there is in a pound of certain kinds of food, indicate what a man ought to live on if he is to feed himself to advantage and live simply and well. Mr. Edward Atkison has pointed out that it is possible for our poorer families to live a great deal better than they do, and at a vastly reduced cost, and in these days, when thousands of people are trying to reduce their expenditures, it is worth while to know where they can cut the cost and not diminish the nutritive power of their food. Professor Atwater, who has made extensive studies in the food question, would render an excellent service to the public if he would do much more to popularize this subject.—Boston Herald.

DANGER OF A STRIKE.

Absence of Mr Robins Felt—Miner Killed by Top Coal.

Nanaimo, Nov. 4.—Mrs. W. D. Robertson, deputy chief of the Pythian Sisters, instituted a temple of the order last night in Nanaimo.

A. Dick, inspector of mines, says a young miner named Robert Gibson, was killed in Union mines on Monday by a fall of top coal.

The steamer Romulus took the last of the coal on hand at the new Vancouver Coal Company's wharves yesterday, having to go to the Northfield wharf to finish. No one seems to know when Mr. Robins will return.

The Nanaimo Rangers Association foot ball club at their meeting appointed the following officers for the season: President, J. Harley; Vice-President, W. Cride; Secretary, A. Thompson; Treasurer, W. Gray; Captain, P. English; Vice-Captain, J. Gould. The club is now ready to accept a challenge from any association football team in the province.

The tug Daisy arrived here yesterday for coal. The captain reported having lost a boom of logs which he was taking to Victoria, off the lower end of Gabriola Island.

The fear that there will be a strike among the miners here is growing stronger and it is greatly increased owing to the absence of the superintendent.

Change of Venue in Morton Case—Druggists Summonsed.

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—The Rugby football match between Vancouver and New Westminster was abandoned on account of unfavorable weather.

G. S. McConnell received word yesterday of the death of his father at Lachute, Quebec.

Mrs. Webster, wife of Alexander C. Webster, died yesterday.

Wills, a mining expert, who has been examining copper mines on Texada island for Victoria capitalists, returned yesterday with a quantity of ore.

Governor Moresby of Westminster has just returned from a lengthy trip to Fort Douglas, hunting up Indian witnesses for the assizes.

The change of venue in the case of Morton, the lacrosse player, was granted because it was believed that prejudice was shown at Westminster.

The schooner Salvator had to unload a portion of her cargo, as she was below the Plimsoll mark.

Nearly all the druggists in the city have been summoned before Magistrates McLean, Mellon and Schofield, charged with employing unregistered clerks. The case of Dr. McAlpine was heard this morning and decision reserved. It is understood that similar charges will be brought against Victoria and New Westminster druggists.

SHORT LOCALS.

—The Melpomene leaves Esquimalt harbor on Sunday morning for England.

Tenders are being called for repairs to the San Mateo. They will be received up till noon on November 10th by Captains Lachlan and Fletcher.

—James R. Chambers and Archibald Johnson, of this city, have passed the intermediate law examination with high honors. The young gentlemen say they are not sorry the exam is over for it was a particularly stiff one. They are being extensively congratulated.

—Among the late arrivals at Page & Winnett's "big vegetable contest" are a 28 1-2 pound turnip and a 25 1-2 pound cabbage, grown by Jas. Crozier, Chemainus; another monster carrot weighing 7 3-4 pounds from W. P. Sayward's; a vegetable marrow weighing 27 pounds, grown by Geo. Wood at Dunsmuir's garden, and a squash weighing 105 pounds, grown by Sam. Jones, Wilkinson road.

—The bell boy at the Victoria club is the proud possessor of a valuable silver watch, which he prizes above all his possessions. The stories in the papers about footpads and highwaymen alarmed the boy, who goes home from his work during the night. He wisely left his watch in the club-room rather than run the risk of having to hand it over to a robber at the mouth of a revolver. An older "boy" found the watch last night and hid it and this morning told the owner that the club room had been "held up" by a gang of desperadoes. This joke will account for the rumor about the club having been robbed of $40 last night.

A Gay Queen's Counsel.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—A scandal implicating a well-known queen's counsel is at present agitating French-Canadian society. This person was lately leaving for Europe. His associates were wishing him bon voyage at "a little supper." A learned judge, it is said, presided, and other limbs of the law were in attendance. So also was a milliner, better known for her personal attractions than for her virtues. All went merrily until the festivities were suddenly disturbed by the arrival of the wife of the queen's counsel, who pointed a revolver at her erring spouse and his female friend. The party broke up in disorder and in anything but the merriest mood. A suit for separation will, it is understood, at once be instituted by the injured wife.

Suffers From Paroniria.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—A sensation was caused by the arrest of Charlotte Urry, a servant girl, who has swindled fifty leading business firms in the city by ordering luxurious goods in her former employer's name, and then obligingly offering to carry them home herself. The The girl is afflicted with paroniria (morbid dreaming). She imagines she is entitled to great riches. She was in an asylum in England for two years.

LIVE BIRD CHAMPIONS.

Patterson, N. J., Nov. 4.—Several thousand people went out to Willard Park this morning to witness the second contest between J. A. R. Elliott, of Kansas City, champion live pigeon shot of the United States, and Frank Class, of Morristown, champion of New Jersey, for $250 a side at 100 birds. In the last match Elliott won by one bird, the score being 24 to 23.

THE RING.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 4.—Much surprise was caused in sporting circles here yesterday when a prominent sportsman received a letter from a well-known sporting paper proprietor of New York, in which he said that if sporting men here raised $100,000 the chances were good for getting the Corbett-Mitchell fight for December or January. The reply was that the money had been raised. Sporting circles are much excited over the prospect of securing the fight. The weather here would be fine in December for such an event, and the facilities could not be beaten. The subtropical exposition building, capable of holding 15,000 persons, can be secured.

Mediterranean Fleets Gathering.

London, Nov. 4.—A dispatch received here from Cadiz says a fleet of eighteen British warships has been gathered at Gibraltar, in anticipation, it is presumed, of a combined movement by the ships of France, Russia and Spain towards Tangier. It is also reported that the French and Russian squadrons intend to proceed immediately to Tangier and join a number of Spanish vessels there.

THE CASH SALES AT

Claim Attention

Because these sales are always in season and are the result of careful selection in the best markets for cash. The assortment of fall goods is large, in spite of the usual talk about close times. Houses like Cameron's, that deal on the cash plan, are not affected adversely by stringency, for they never go beyond the limit of prudence. A close money market means, to them, an advantage to buyers, since the purchases are made at a time when prices are low. Our customers get this benefit. Trade with us is good.
